Cochrane, Tarrant take new duties

Fassett named managing editor

DENNIS FASSETT

A top-level management change at Associated Newspapers, Inc., has been announced by David Willett, owner and publisher of the Wayne-based newspaper group.

John Tarrant, who served three years as general manager of Associated when it was owned by Panax, will become regional sales director for Panax, and will work out of the corporation's regional headquarters in Madison Heights.

Also moving on is Editor Bob Cochrane, who will take over as editor of the Mt. Pleasant Daily Times-News, a Panax-owned publication.

Named to replace Cochrane as managing editor is Dennis Fassett, 41, a Westland resident for 20 years.

Tarrant and Fassett already have assumed their new posts, while Cochrane will begin his new duties Monday.

Willett purchased Associated from Panax three weeks ago.

Tarrant, a Westland resident, came to Associated in November, 1973, after serving as a newspaper representative of the advertising firm of Cresmer, Woodward, O'Mara and Ormsbee, Inc.

Prior to that he was general advertising manager at The Pontiac (now Oakland) Press and a retail advertising sales representative with the Grand Rapids Herald.

In addition, Tarrant's newspaper experience includes editorial background gained on the advertising-editorial staffs of the St. Louis, Mich., Leader-Press, Wyandotte Tribune and Wyandotte News-Herald.

> "We intend to re-establish Associated as the kind of community newspaper that the people in our market area want and need."
> .."We want people on our staff who are involved with and dedicated to the communities that we serve. Dennis knows the territory. He will do credit to the position he now holds, and will succeed in giving the people we serve, our readers, the editorial product deserved."
> DAVID J. WILLETT

Cochrane, who has won numerous journalism awards in recent years, including the American Legion Auxiliary's Golden Press Award in 1973 for a series on drug abuse, moved to Associated in February of this year after having served as news editor for Mellus Newspapers, a Panax-owned chain based in Lincoln Park.

A 1958 journalism graduate of the University of Michigan, Cochrane has been a reporter or department editor on the Grand Rapids Herald, Jackson Citizen-Patriot, Marion, Ind., Leader-Tribune and Fort Wayne News-Sentinel. He came to Mellus in November, 1969, from a school textbook publishing firm in Grand Rapids where he was a writer and book editor.

Fassett, a graduate of Dearborn Fordson High School, came to Associated from the Aerospace Systems Division of Bendix Corp., in Ann Arbor, where he had been a supervisor in the publications department since February, 1964. He had joined Bendix in November, 1960, as an associate electronics engineer.

After serving as an Army radar electronics specialist in Germany from 1954-56, Fassett attended Henry Ford Community College and Los Angeles City College and completed his studies at the University of Southern California.

He worked in an electronics corporation while attending USC, where he subsequently changed his major to education.

Married, Fassett and his wife, Frances, have four children.

At Romulus high

Ah one, Ah two, Ah three

DeWayne Anderson (left), and Tony Bates will be featured on their mellow tenor saxophones. The Concert proceeds will help support the two bands.

Romulus band rock's around the "Sousa"

By JIM BRADLEY
Roman Staff Writer

Romulus senior high school bands will present a winter concert at 8 p.m. tomorrow evening in the school auditorium that will feature a wide variety of contemporary and traditional music.

Directed by Ralph Miller, the symphony stage bands have had to work hard this year, without funds from the school.

"The stage band has been well received at all their outside performances," Miller said. "After only 1½ years of experience they have developed a sound that's much better than the average high school band. All we need now, are plenty of worthwhile events to perform for."

Tomorrow night, the stage band will display its versatility by starting with "Rock Around The Clock," then swinging into "I'm Getting Sentimental Over You," "In The Mood," and "Stormy Weather," before finishing with a toe-tapping rendition of "A String of Pearls."

"This year's Symphony Band is the best group of students that I've had the privilege of working with at Romulus High School," he said. "The group is working hard towards another 'superior' rating on March 5 at the District Band Festival. Of the 60 members that make up the band, 42 were on the honor roll last marking period, six of those receiving all A's. That's really a fine achievement," Miller said.

In spite of cutbacks in certain areas, Miller considers this the finest year he's had at Romulus High School.

"Considering the loss of the 9th grade from music class, and the cutback from six to five hours a day, we're fortunate to be able to keep a 60-piece band," he said.

The Symphony Band has worked hard, and will perform a varied offering tomorrow night. It will start with Sousa's "George Washington Bicentennial March," then play an Irish tune from County Derry. They will perform a festive overture and selections from the play "Oliver" before closing with a Christmas festival of songs.

Miller said that 23 band students are planning to participate in the district solo and ensemble festival on Jan 29 where they will be playing individually and in groups for high ratings.

The district band festival will be held March 5. The state solo ensemble festival is slated for March 26. The state band festival will take place on April 30.

Gary Griffin will be at the microphone tomorrow night and Miller hopes the auditorium is filled with lovers of good music.

Romulus high school band Director Ralph Miller comes by his musical talent honestly. He is the namesake of Glenn Miller — the famous leader of the swinging "Big Band" era of the '40's.

Pretty little Mary Neighbors was the center of attraction when she threw the switch igniting the Christmas tree and civic center lights Friday night. Mary and Romulus Mayor James Stewart prepare to "brighten" up the city as nearly 1,000 children and adults attended the tree lighting and welcoming party for Santa Claus.

Mary lite's up Romulus lights up

"It was the most successful Christmas tree lighting ceremony I remember," said Marie DeBuysscher, director of Parks and Recreation. who headed up the event.

In spite of the crowd that jammed city hall, everybody had a good time and showed true Christmas spirit," she said.

The Bicentennial choir led the Christmas songs, and "Deacon John" of St. Aloysius Catholic Church led the group in prayer.

Then came — the big red fire engine — and its valuable property, Santa Claus and his helper, Christmas Carol who was portrayed by 17-year-old Susie Block. Santa was welcomed and five-year-old Mary Neighbors threw the switch, illuminating the city Christmas tree

Two horses die

Arson ruled out in Romulus fires

A state fire marshall has ruled out arson in two separate fires last week, which destroyed the home and barn of a Romulus family and caused an estimated $130,000 damage.

The family of Fred Hays, 14170 Huron River Drive, fled from their burning home at 2:30 a.m. Thursday when their barking dog awakened the family and saved them from the raging flames.

Sunday, the second fire broke out about 8:45 p.m. and destroyed the Hays' barn, located about 100 yards from the house. Fred Jr., an adult son of the owner and a contractor, had gone outside to his pickup truck when he saw the flames between the crack of the closed barn doors. He grabbed a garden hose to battle the fire but couldn't extinguish the blaze. Two of the four horses, kept in the barn, died in the flames.

Romulus fire chief John Wilhide and state fire marshall Sgt. Hugh T. Mosher spent Monday investigating the gutted house and barn. "The state fire marshall said he's satisfied that both accidents were accidental," Wilhide said. "we made a thorough investigation of the house and barn and believe the house fire was probably started by an overheated furnace.

"According to the burn pattern on the barn floor, it looks like a faulty or damaged electrical outlet may have been the cause, possibly a horse could have accidently kicked it."

Eight persons were awakened in the early morning darkness of Thursday to see the rear of the house engulfed in flames. All fled to safety including the parents, Fred and Helen Hays, their three children, Fred Jr., Carla and Margi Hermman, and Mrs. Hermann's two sons, Geoff and Marc.

The barn, which was built in 1968, had six stalls and was 32-by-50 feet with a 50-by-80 foot enclosed riding ring. Both were destroyed.

The family's insurance company, moved a house trailer onto the property for the Hays family to live while other arrangements are being made.

MACPA helps with chore of predicting yearly income

Closing out the tax year usually is a challenging task, but it may be even more so this year for Western Wayne County residents.

Taxpayers not only will have to try to predict how next year's income will compare with this year's and decide what steps to take now to minimize the tax bill, but must do so under the rules of the Tax Reform Act of 1976.

The Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants (MACPA), in an effort to make the annual chore a little easier, has several suggestions on ways to shift income or deductions into a tax year in which Uncle Sam's tax bite will be less severe, and otherwise to avoid payment of taxes unnecessarily.

Effective on 1976 incomes, the standard deduction claimed by those who don't itemize their deductions has been increased. It's now 16 percent of adjusted gross income up to $2,400 — $2,800 for couples filing jointly. What's more, it's already reflected in the tax tables for taxpayers with incomes as high as $20,000.

If this causes you to decide to use the standard deduction, there are several things you might want to do now. If you expect to go back to itemizing next year, for example, defer until 1977 as many deductible expenses as you can. Among the expenses whose timing can sometimes be controlled are charitable contributions, certain state and local taxes, medical bills and health insurance premiums.

In deciding whether to use the standard deduction, keep in mind that you can do so now while enjoying the tax break given to working parents who have to pay someone to look after their children or other dependents while the parents are at work. This formerly was limited to those who itemized.

(Next year taxpayers will be able to claim a deduction for alimony you pay without having to itemize other deductions. However, on 1976 returns, if you take the standard deduction, there's no alimony deduction.)

The MACPA also reminds taxpayers that possible future government actions may affect current tax-planning decisions. For example, there has been speculation that there might be an income tax cut early in 1977 to stimulate the economy. If you believe that this is likely to happen, or have some other reason for expecting your tax burden to ease next year, you might try to defer some income into 1977.

The most obvious way to do this is to delay the sale of an asset on which there will be a capital gain. But some taxpayers also have a certain amount of control over the timing of other income such as bonuses, commissions or royalties. Tradesmen or professional people, for example, might delay or advance their billings to customers.

For those who qualify, such as employees not covered by a pension or profit-sharing plan, one good way to reduce taxable income might be by investing as much as 15 percent of adjusted gross income up to $1,500 in an individual Retirment Account (IRA). Such investments, and the dividends or interest they earn, are tax-protected until drawn out after retirement.

The beauty of the IRA as a tax-planning device is that you can wait until the closing days of the year before decidding how much of a contribution to make, then protect as much as 15 percent of income up to $1,500 from taxation at this time.

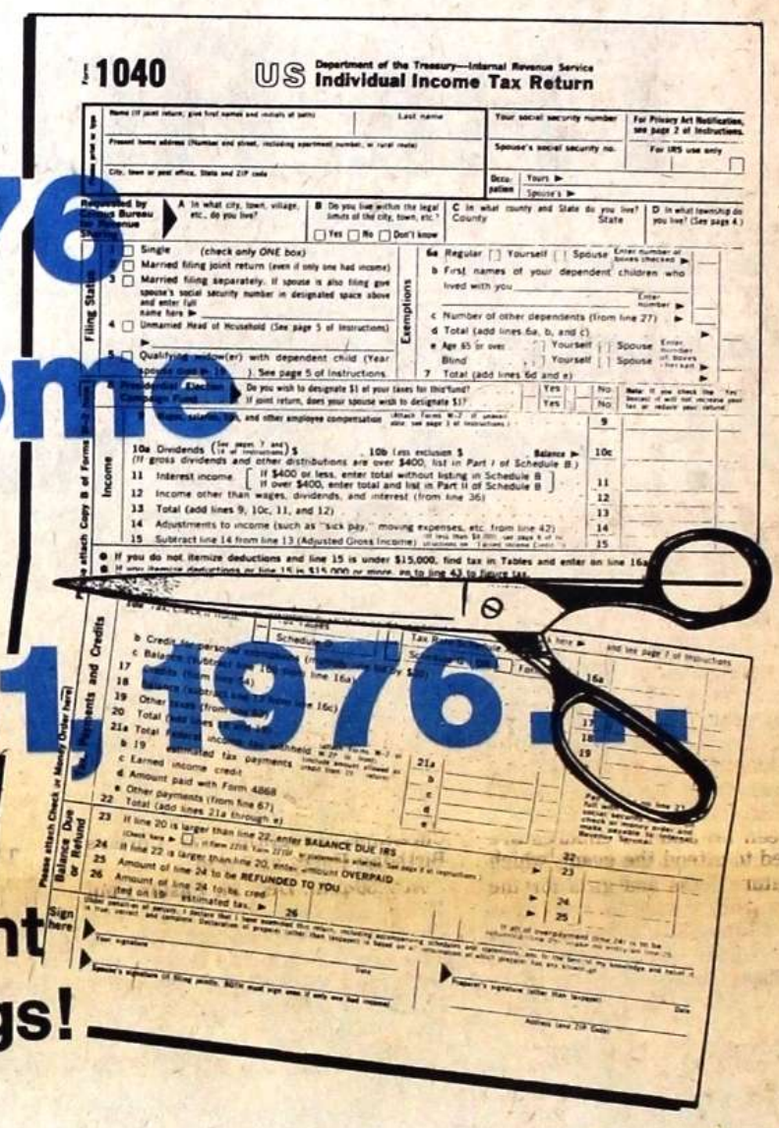
Cut Your 1976 Federal Income Tax Before December 31, 1976...



With a Tax Sheltered Retirement Savings Account at Standard Federal Savings!

Individual Retirement Accounts can save you money!

An Individual Retirement Account (IRA) is a personal tax-sheltered retirement savings plan for people who are not covered by a pension or profit sharing plan. The IRA plan allows you to deposit up to $1,500 annually or 15% of your earned income, whichever is less, in a tax-sheltered savings account. Your annual deposit is deductible from your gross income when computing your Federal Income Tax and your IRA savings account interest is tax-deferred until you redeem your account.

Any wage earner who is not a participant in a retirement or profit sharing plan may set up an IRA. This includes:

- Individuals working for firms that do not have pension or profit sharing plans.
- "new" employees who do not qualify for a pension plan at their place of employment.
- self-employed persons who prefer an IRA to a Keogh plan.
- employees leaving a pension or profit sharing plan can roll-over into an IRA account.

How Individual Retirement Savings Accounts grow compared to normal savings accounts

INTEREST RATE	AFTER 6 YEARS		AFTER 12 YEARS		AFTER 18 YEARS		AFTER 24 YEARS
	IRA	Normal Savings	IRA	Normal Savings	IRA	Normal Savings	IRA	Normal Savings
5¼%	$10,845	$8,134	$25,676	$19,257	$45,956	$34,467	$ 73,689	$55,267
6½% * 1 yr. Certificate	11,347	8,510	28,054	21,040	52,652	39,489	88,870	66,653
7¾% * 6 yr. Certificate	11,875	8,906	30,697	23,023	60,529	45,396	107,810	80,858

The chart assumes wage earner is in the 25% tax bracket and wants to save $1,500 annually with a deposit in each calendar year. With IRA the full $1,500 (no tax payable) is deposited and the interest accumulates tax sheltered until retirement. Without IRA, the $1,500 pre-tax dollars would be reduced by taxes to a net deposit of $1,125 and all interest accumulations would be taxed during the current tax period.

KEOGH PLAN The Keogh plan allows self-employed persons to set aside tax-sheltered dollars up to $7,500 each year, or 15% of your earned income, whichever is less. The amount you set aside is tax deductible and the interest earned is tax-deferred until you retire. Income taxes on both principal and interest are payable only when benefits are withdrawn from your account.

'Tin Lizzie' goes ethnic

Travel around world—menu style

By JIM BRADLEY
Of The Enterprise-Roman Staff

Nickerson Farms "Tin Lizzie" Restaurant says if you can't tour the world to taste food of distant countries, don't be discouraged.

It plans on serving culinary delights every Monday Night that will feature authentic recipes from countries around the globe.

The food emporium, located on Belleville Road just north of I-94, already serves a wide variety of foods, but plans to add others with its "International Nights" program which started Monday.

Originated by restaurant manager Ron Suchy and chef John Gardner, whose grandparents came from Germany, the program is scheduled to run each Monday evening for eight week. It's first offering Monday was an authentic German menu which consisted of Rinds Goulash, German meat patties, Spatzle (noodles), green bean casserole and Warmer Kadaffel Salad (warm German potato salad.).

Gardner, 37, has been cooking, since his high school days...

This coming week, Gardner plans to serve an authentic Italian meal. It includes burger tritini (casserole of hamburger with Italian sauce, spinach and cottage cheese), pollo arraggiato (chicken in savory red wine sauce), meatless spaghetti, savory tomatoes, benas and squash, and eggplant parmesan.

Gardner, 37, has been cooking since his high days at Ann Arbor High School where he worked in the school food program.

"I've always more or less loved cooking and being around a stove," said Gardner, who was born and raised in Ann Arbor and now lives in Ypsilanti. "I guess I get my love for cooking, and especially foreign dishes, from my grandmother who was born in Germany and brought her recipes to this country."

Gardner has researched all the menus he plans to serve in the next two months to make sure they're authentic. After Monday's Italian fare, he plans to serve in succeeding weeks dishes from Mexico, Scandinavia, the Caribbean and Latin America, northern Europe and the British Isles, Spain and Portugal and France.

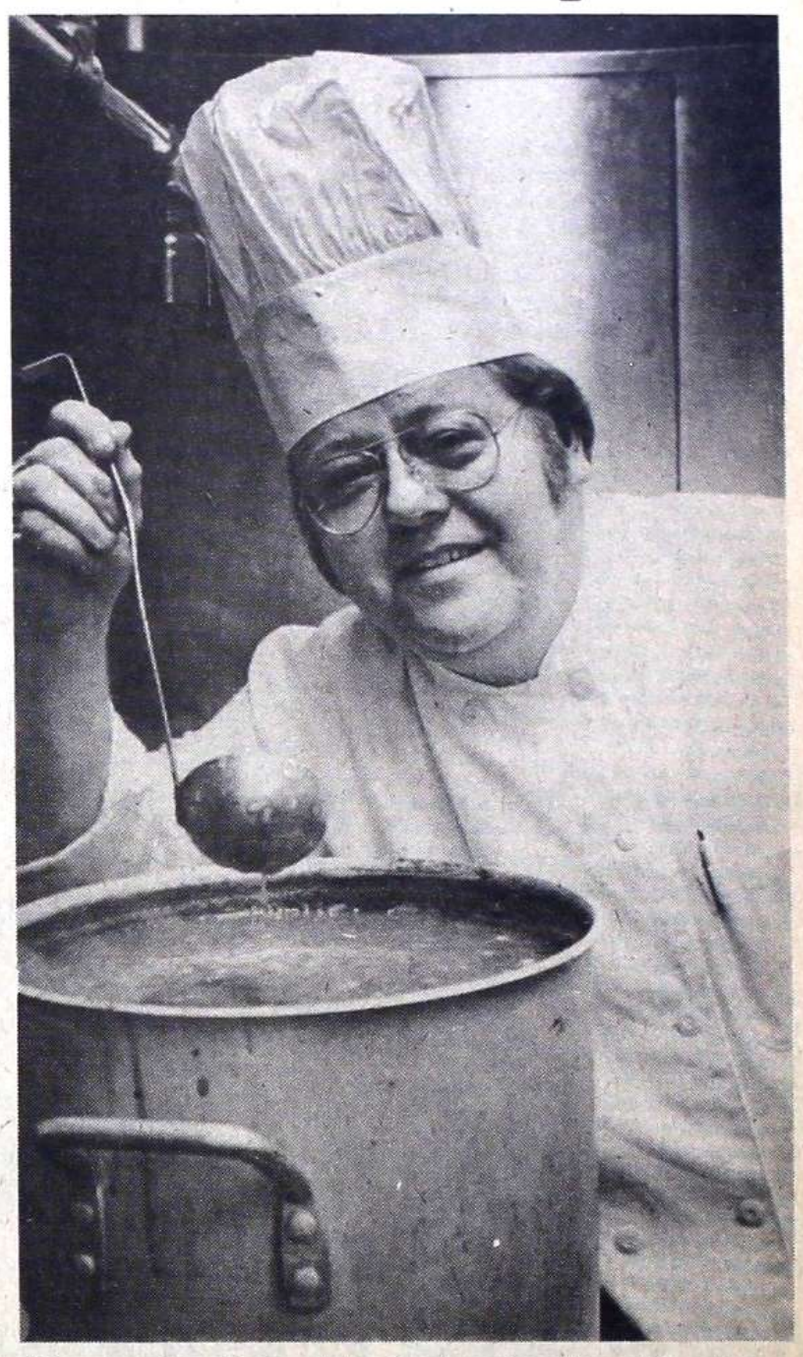
The soft-spoken culinary expert served in the Army and was stationed in Germany after high school. His experience has been varied, including service as a chef for Ann Arbor Sheraton Hotel from 1967 to 1969. Then he served for two years as chef and dietary director of Hillside Terrace, a retirement center in Ann Arbor.

From there he operated his own family-type restaurant in 1971 in Whitmore Lake. He worked as chef at Eastern Michigan University from 1972 until last July when he came to the "Tin Lizzie" Restaurant.

Gardner is a little portly, probably a tribute to his cooking prowess, and is active in church and lodge affairs. Musically gifted, he sings in Ypsilanti's St. Matthews Methodist Church shoir and occasionally plays the organ.

He's also active in masonic work and belongs to Ann Arbor Lodge No. 544.

John's wife, Susan, was born and has spent all of her life in Ypsilanti. They have four children—Marjorie, 19, Irene, 18, Paul, 13, and John Jr., 12.



It's not certain whether John Gardner does the cooking at home or merely looks over his wife's shoulder in the kitchen, but the gifted chef loves turning out culinary delights and here he's sniffing his latest stew. — ANP photo.

Tomorrow is the deadline for members to pay for their lunches.

RSVP, Santa Claus

Youngsters in the Romulus community will be checking the mailbox everyday between now and Christmas to be certain that Santa Claus has gotten their request through the Santa Mailbox in front of the Romulus Public Library on Goddard Road. Young Alicia Brown got a boost from her mother this week as she deposited her written request in the holiday letter line. Sponsored by the Romulus Jaycees, letters deposited in the box by Dec. 23 will received written responses from the Jolly Old Elf. — ANP photo.

Cheerleaders prepare for sports fund raisers

The varsity and junior varsity cheerleading squads at Romulus Senior High School are hoping to do something about recent Board of Education instituted budget cutbacks which affected the school's athletic program.

The cheerleaders are planning several fund-raising events to collect money to finance the sports activities at the school.

On tap for students at the school will be such fund-raising projects as Buy A Cheerleader Day, Christmas pinata raffle, bake sale and Christmas caroling for donations.

Students interested in helping the pepsters raise money or those residents who would like to contribute to the fundraisers can contact advisor Cathy Ward care of Romulus Senior High School, 9650 S. Wayne Road, Romulus 48174.

County funds moratorium

The Wayne County Board of Commissioners has authorized and funded a 60-day moratorium on a new policy that would require medically indigent patients to travel to Wayne County General Hospital in Westland for most non-emergency treatment.

During the moratorium, the Greater Detroit Area Hospital Council will be developing alternate plans and recommendations for the health care of county indigents that will be presented to the Board's Human Resources Committee.

The new policy was scheduled to go into effect Dec. 1 as a move to save $2.5 million annually by increasing patient utilization of the county hospital.

But the Commissioners temporarily reversed that decision at a meeting Dec. 2 following a series of public hearings and committee meetings on the question of whether or not the new policy would impose undue hardship on any citizen or health care institution.

"Public reaction was running against the new requirement and several groups requested that further study be given to the policy," said Commissioner William G. Suzore (D-Lincoln Park), who chaired the hearings.

The decision to halt the new policy was almost blocked when Commissioner Mary E. Dumas (R-Livonia) filed a motion for reconsideration because of "budget considerations" and the fact that a "source of funding was not named".

She later withdrew her motion, allowing the moratorium to resume. The moratorium initially was proposed by Commissioner Jarrette Simmons (D-Detroit), vice-chairman of the Board.

Sitting as the Ways and Means Committee Dec. 9, the Commissioners approved a $735,000 supplemental appropriation to finance the treatment rendered by private and public hospitals to indigent patients during the 60-day study period.

The county Board of Auditors recommended that the additional funding come primarily from an existing $320,000 county hospital allocation for indigent in-patient services, and a $250,000 standing appropriation for court services in Western Wayne County.

Edward Bobowski, county fiscal advisor, assured Western Wayne County commissioners that the transfer of funds would "have no effect" on an existing out-county Circuit Court program currently in operation and funded with a federal grant.

"The newly-imposed moratorium will expire Jan. 31," explained Suzore, chairman of the Human Resources Committee. "We have asked the hospital study group to try to complete its analysis by Jan. 20 so that members of the Human Resources Committee will have ample time to study it and make a recommendation to the full board."

Mrs. Dumas said she will try to "get the committee to look at this entire health care problem down the road".

"I had no intention of hurting any patients, particularly the elderly and the chronically ill who are without transportation, when I filed my motion to reconsider," she added. "But we must learn to face up to budget considerations at the time they come before us, and I feel obligated to support a balanced budget."

Mrs. Dumas also announced her intention to sponsor a resolution creating a special committee to explore ways to "operate public hospitals in a way to make them more productive and cost-effective," including the possibility of opening up the county hospital to private physicians for general services.

John Barr, chaiman of the Board of Commissioners, has predicted that the new indigent policy will be rescinded because "the great majority of those testifying at the public hearings were against it."

At to such hearings, Detroit city representatives charged the new policy would have a severe financial impact on Detroit General Hospital where many indigent patients are treated.

Other speakers claimed that many in need of medical treatment will forego it rather than travel to the county hospital 16 miles west of Detroit.

Patients affected by the new policy are persons with medical needs beyond their financial means who are not covered by Medicare, Medicaid or hospital-medical insurance.

'Toyland' premieres

Players revive operetta

The Greenfield Village Players will bring music and enchantment to the stage of the Henry Ford Museum Theatre this Christmas season when they present Victor Herbert's 1903 operetta, "Babes in Toyland".

The production which opened Saturday, recalls the days when theatrical pageants were an important part of the holiday celebration.

In reviving this entertainment tradition, Theater Arts manager Joseph French has selected a production which combines a memorable musical score with a fantasy-filled script to delight young and old alike, a museum spokesman said.

The characters are straight from the pages of Mother Goose. The audience will meet the likes of Bo Peep, Little Boy Blue and Contrary Mary as they follow Jack and Jill on a flight from their miserly Uncle Barnaby. In the course of their adventures, the clumsy pair crosses through the spider forest and into a magical land inhabited by toy soldiers, dolls and dancing bears and ruled by a wicked toymaker. The toys eventually triumph, and Jack and Jill foil their uncle's evil plans.

Interspersed with the dialogue is a musical socre that includes "The March of the Wooden Soldiers," "Toyland" and "Just a Whisper Away." Rich costumes and dazzling scenery enliven the imaginative 2-hour production, the spokesman said.

"Babes in Toyland" is designed for the whole family, the spokesman added. Matinee performances are set for 2 p.m. Saturday and Dec. 27-31. Special productions for school groups are scheduled for 10 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. through Friday.

The Players will continue their performances into January with matinees at 2 p.m. Jan. 8, 15 and 22. An evening performance will take place at 7:30 p.m. Jan. 22.

Tickets are priced at $2.50 for adults and $1.50 for children 12 and under. They will be available at the Museum Theater box office approximately one hour before each performance. There are no reserved seats.

For additional information or to make reservations for school groups, contact the Travel and Convention Department at Greenfield Village at 271-1620.

Concert to play baroque

Music from Henry Purcell's London will highlight the Dec. 6 concert by the University of Michigan (U-M) Collegium Musicum at the University of Michigan-Dearborn.

The program will feature music originally performed by the various types of restoration musicians from the itinerant singers who performed at fairs and in taverns to the musicians of the royal household; from the voluntary singers in country churches to the professionals in the Chapel Royal.

The U-M Collegium Musicum will be directed by Thomas Taylor and Edward Parmentier. Selections will include "Remember Not, Lord Our Offences," a church anthem by Purcell, as well as popular tunes with bawdy texts. A musical high point of the concert will be the solos and chorus from Purcell's "The Tempest".

The free Monday evening concert is scheduled for 8 p.m. in the Sisson Room at Fair Lane Conference Center, former home of Henry Rord. The house will be decorated for the festive holiday season. UM-D's Cultural Events Committee is sponsoring the concert.

Red Cross disaster teams help victims of burnouts

With winter's official opening just days away, the possibility of home fire is increasing, and the Red Cross is reminding residents that its trained volunteers—Disaster Action Team—are on call 24 hours a day to provide immediate assistance, casework, mass feeding and shelter management.

Once notifed of a burnout, team volunteers meet with fire victims and provide for their immediate needs of food, clothing and shelter. The Red Cross acts as the intermediary until insurance or governmental agencies can take over.

In the 1975-76 fiscal year some 2,496 working hours were donated by Disaster Action Team members in the tri-county area.

And in order to prevent a fire in your home, the Red Cross offers the following fire prevention tips:

— Have your heating system thoroughly inspected and overhauled, if necessary.

— Make sure it is properly vented to the outdoors.

Defective appliances, clogged flues and chimneys can make a home a lethal gas chamber. Protect open fire places with screens that completely cover the openings.

— Defective wiring can cause fires. Hire a professional electrician to put your electric wiring in good condition for lighting, heating and cooking. Don't attempt the job yourself.

— Make sure that electrical circuits are equipped with proper sized fuses or circuit breakers and that all cords and plugs are inspected for faulty switches, loose connections and signs of wear. Have the defects corrected. Clear closets, attics, stairwells and garages of unused materials that are combustible.

Kelley lauds passage of consumerism bill by state legislature

Attorney General Frank J. Kelley has expressed his satisfaction with the passage of the Michigan Consumer Protection Act by the State Legislature.

"This bill, has been a long time in coming," Kelley said. "It will give both consumers and businessmen a set of standards to guide them in everyday consumer-business affairs."

"Since the time we first proposed legislation of this kind in 1968, various versions of this bill were introduced, but failed to passs the Legislature," Kelley continued. "Our efforts to persuade the Legislature during the nine years to adopt this landmark consumer protection law finally has resulted in a major improvement for the public in the marketplace."

Kelley especially praised the efforts of Reps. Joseph Forbes (D-Oak Park) and Lynn Jondahl (D-East Lansing), who provided the strong leadership on both the Conference Committee which worked out the final version of the bill and in managing it in the House", he added.

"The leadership of Sen. Thomas Guastello (D-Sterling Heights), the sponsor of the bill, and Sen. Daniel Cooper (D-Oak Park) at working out a comprehensive final version also have been instrumental in this bill's passage," Kelley said.

Purple Heart needs light

Bright light and good drainage are the keys to growing the Purple Heart (Setcreasea purpurea).

This trailing plant has purple stems and leaves with silvery hairs: Michigan State University horticulturists suggest it is a good plant for hanging baskets.

Full sun or bright, diffused light is necessary to keep the plant brightly colored. With sufficient light, the plant produces lavender - colored flowers at the stem tips. In low light, it gets leggy, and the lower leaves yellow and drop off.

The Purple Heart will do well in average home temperatues, with a minumum of 50-60 degrees at night and a maximum daytime temperature of 75 during the winter. It will tolerate low himidity but will do better at higher humidity levels.

Pot the Purple Heart in a standard houseplant potting mix made of equal parts loam, sand and peat. Let the soil dry moderately between waterings.

For Adrian's diners

Miss Arthur appears production

An Adrian College freshman and graduate of Belleville High School was among a select group of students appearing in the college's new Lunch Time Theatre program in last month.

Spring Arthur was in the cast of "Dark Doings at the Crossroads", a melodrama produced and directed by Adrian College students. The theatre program, made up of selection of scenes, musical numbers and short 1-act productions, played to small audiences while they ate.

At Adrian, Miss Arthur is an academic scholarship recipeint interested in elementary education studies. Her campus activities include the student activities communication committee, Wesley Fellowship and the student government dining committee. She also was involved in organizing Adrian students' participation in a recent nationwide campus fast for World Hunger.

She graduated this year from Belleville High where she belonged to the National Honor Society, student government, Spanish, ski and synchronized swimming clubs plus the cast of the school musical. As a senior, she also tutored students in township elementary schools and later became a teacher's assistant.

Asked who had been most influential in her high school experiences, Miss Arthur selected Belleville instructors Karen Sinkus and Marshall Wied.

"I was impressed by Mrs. Sinkus and Wied because they could relate well with students and because I really enjoyed their style of teaching," the coed explained. "Their personality also made them special to me. Mrs. Sinkus always was so vivacious and Wied seemed very dedicated to his work.

Miss Arthur is the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Joy Arthur of 455 High St., Belleville, and describes an excellent relationship with her parents.

She said: "My parents have been very good to me, doing all they can to help me in whatever I'm involved. I really appreciate the lifestyle they provide me and, especially since I've been away at college, I try not to take my family for granted."

Miss Arthur is a member of the First United Methodist Church in Belleville, where she has been an officer of the youth followship and participant in an Appalachian service project sponsored by the group.

Red Cross will sponsor 'Save-A-Life' campaign

To avert an area wide shortage of blood during the crucial holiday season, Red Cross will sponsor Save-A-Life Sunday on Dec. 26, with the hope of collecting 1,000 pints of blood.

"We are encouraging every eligible donor between the ages of 17 and 65, to donate during this crucial period," said A. William Shafer, MD, director of the Southeastern Michigan Red Cross Blood Center. "We must assure that holiday needs are met and a slump in donations prevented."

This year as in past years, there are fewer blood collection days in December because many businesses and industries close for holiday vacations. Because industry provides much of the blood that is needed in the tri-county area, this important source is lost during the holiday season.

"We are confident that residents will respond to the need and donate either on Sunday, or sometime during the following week," Dr. Shafer said.

Red Cross donor sites will be open from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Save-A-Life Sunday.

Western Wayne County residents can make an appointment to donate blood on Save-A-Life Sunday at the Dearborn donor site, Village Plaza, 23400 Michigan Avenue, or by calling 274-5450.

Dec. 21 solstice to open winter

Winter solstice, when the sun reaches its southernmost point of the year, will occur at 12:36 p.m. Dec. 21.

This is the official beginning of winter and is the shortest day of the year — about nine hours of daylight and 15 hours of darkness.

"From then on the days will begin to lengthen, and we'll be heading back to summer," said University of Michigan astronomer Hazel M. Losh. "At this time of the year, the earth actually is closer to the sun than during the summer."

But seasons depend on the tilt of the earth's axis, rather than the distance from the sun, she explained.

"Even though we are closer to the sun in winter, the sun's rays hit us more obliquely, with less force. However, the fact that we are closer to the sun tends to make winters in the northern hemisphere a little milder," she said.

"The sun and winter solstice are believed to bear a real relation to the date of Christmas," Miss Losh said. "Most likely, this religious celebration was set to agree with the early pagan festival celebrating the promise of returning from the cold, bleak temperatures to warmer weather."

"An impressive symbol of the Christmas season is the Northern Cross, Cygnus," she continued. "It will move across the December sky from the zenith to the northwest, gradually assuming more and more of a vertical position.

"By Christmas Eve, the long bar of the cross will be upright against the sky."

She added that Sirius, the "Star of the East" pointed to by the Three Wise Men, rises in the early evenings around Christmas. The brightest star in the whole heavens, it is the principal star of Canis Major, the Dog of Orion.

"We are particularly favored with planets this Christmas month," noted Miss Losh. "The brightest is Venus, so brilliant you can't miss it. It is visible in the southwestern sky for two to three hours after sunset.

"On Christmas Eve, Venus will be joined by the crescent moon, about 7 degrees to the north," she said. "As soon as darkness comes on, Jupiter will show up in the northeastern sky and shine the whole night through."

As we see it

Legislators should decline authorized pay increase

It's the Christmas season, and one of the things we hear a lot, is how much better it is to give then to receive. Well our state legislature got the message, but it must have been garbled in transmission. Your state representatives have just about put the finishing touch on the pay raise you will be giving them for Christmas. Merry Christmas.

Last week the State Officers Compensation Commission, SOCC, that legislative front group established by the State Legislature (Public Act No. 357) in 1968, authorized pay increases for our "part time" lawmakers.

Already the fourth highest paid legislators in the country, the authorized increase will amount to $5,000 a year, not bad, for a group of full time lawyers and part time government servants.

Adding insult to injury, those elastic backed folk, the same ones, who were unable to act on several pieces of legislation and turned them over to the electorate, have now found a cause to unite them, reaching for your billfold.

Gone are the campaign promises of fiscal responsibility, gone are the promises of eliminating waste. In place of those promises we have now discovered "that cause" our legislators are dedicated to, themselves.

The new SOCC authorized increases, from 19,000 up to 24,000 would be too much, if the state were in good financial shape, but it is not. The increase would be too much even if our legislators were not on vacation four months of the year, but they are, and the pay increase would still be to much if our representatives were doing an outstanding job, which they are not. For our elected state representatives to even consider accepting this SOCC authorized pay increase is, "just too much."

State Senator Earl E. Wilson, Appropriations Subcommittee chairman said that the state is already running about 200 million in the red, and he didn't know where the money for this increase was going to come from, but we know, don't we. It will come from you and I, the average citizen of this state, who will be unable to simply pass along the additional costs to the next guy down the line. For us there is no one else down the line, we are the ones who must tighten our belts again, the average working man is the one who will be stuck holding the bill, without the option of even "washing the dishes".

We feel it's time for our elected representatives to substitute reality for rheortic, responsibility for resourcefulness, and reason for riches.

We urge the State Legislature to vote against this pay increase, we ask them to do their part in restoring public confidence in elected officials.

As they see it

Common cause will speak to issues

To the Editor:

We, the citizens, remain committed to democracy despite the doubts raised by the events of the scandal ridden Nixon administration. The Watergate affair, and the resignation of Vice President Spiro T. Agnew in 1973, (after he pleaded no contest) to income tax evasion charges, do not mean that democracy has failed!

Such events do raise question as to the adequacy and feasibility of our prevailing governmental system. Yet, we as a people are not rejecting our present system in retaliation. On the contrary, we are earnestly pursuing, improvements, reformations, and refinements. A successful vehicle to governmental reform is available to the citizens of a democratic America. That vehicle is recognized as Common Cause — a citizens lobby movement.

Common Cause is comprised of citizens like you and me, who care about the betterment of our country. So, in an attempt to familiarze you, the reader, with Common Cause activities, I have briefly outlined a set of potential issues which have been identified as among those I judge, to merit consideration.

The following should serve as a starting point from which to determine which issues will be adopted for Common Cause's 1977 reform effort for the State of Michigan.

REAPPORTIONMENT; Common Cause potential action calls for the creation of an independent, bipartisan board to be solely responsible for establishing congressional and state district lines. This action would insure equal citizen representation, and results in representated non-gerrymandered districts.

EXECUTIVE-LEGISLATIVE BUDGET AND PROGRAM REVIEW RESPONSIBILITIES; An agency budget typically lists expenditures under ambiguous phrases: "personnel services," "contractual services," "travel," or equipment." Needless to say, it is impossible to tell from such a listing exactly what programs the agency is spending its money. Obviously such a budget obscures policy decision by hiding programs behind meaningless phrases.

Common Cause may call for budgeting by end products or program packages like aid to dependent children, vocational rehabilitaion, administration of fair employment practice laws, and so on.

No such systemmatic process exists in Michigan. In addition to program budgeting, Common Cause may work for periodic re-evaluations of existing agencies. If the agency fails to meet its needs it is terminated. This is known as sunset legislation!

JUDICIAL REFORM; A number of possible approaches exist for reforming the financing and selection process, for judicial campaigns, and eliminating opportunities for conflict of interest.

Among them are: Prohibiting lawyers from contributing to judicial candidates; Publicly funded judicial races; providing for the appointment instead of the election of judges; or a mixture of appointment and election (Missouri Plan).

FOLLOW UP OF 1976 PROGRAM EFFORTS. Open meetings passed. A potential 1977 project may be to encourage active citizen monitoring of local units of government; interviewing where necessary to assure their compliance with the law.

These are only a few of the potential projects Common Cause is presently speculating on. If you would like to add to the list, or learn more about the proposals, write: Common Cause. 300 Bauch Bldg., 115 W. Allegan, Lansing 48933.

If you are somebody who really cares about the betterment of your country, you should write Common Cause. And bear in mind that life beside the wishing well will not produce a better democracy.

Reader lauds Pat Cullin

To the Editor:

I was rather amazed at the recent picture you published of the Belleville senior citizen hot lunch program. There was no picture, or even a mention of the person most responsible for the sucess of this program, Van Buren Township Supervisor Pat Cullin.

It was Cullin who stipulated the position of "Senior Citizen Program Co-ordinator. Without that stipulation, the program would be impossible.

The Supervisor and the Van Buren Township Board are to be thanked for amny, many other acts of kindness to the Senior Citizens.

Many thanks are also due the pastor and congregation of St. Pauls Lutheran Church at 494 Columbia, where the Hot Lunch is served each day.

There is still more room available for more Senior Citizens who wish to take advantage of the program. Reservations should be called in the day prior to the Lunch. The telephone number to call is 699-2001.

Again, our sincere thanks to Van Buren Township Supervisor Pat Cullin, and regrets for the omission of her name and picture in the original article.

No doubt you've heard by now that Associated Newspapers has been purchased from Panax by David Willett.

Dave hired me in 1969 when I first came to ANP, and this will be the second time I've worked for him. (Won't he ever learn?).

I never had the privilege of meeting Mr. Panax, I think he lives in Lansing, you know, I never saw him come to the office even once. If he did, he sure didn't stop by my desk to say hello. But I'm really happy that a hometown man now owns Associated Newspapers and I see him in the office working hard every day.

There is this new fellow, however, who walks around the office smoking a pipe and looking like he's trying to find someway to stay out of trouble. His name's Dennis Fassett and I don't know much about him, but I figure Mr. Willett must have hired him to be my assistant.

Mr. Fassett called me into his spacious, uncluttered office the other day. He flashed a letter in may direction with his chubby hand, and said in solemn tones: "I'm the new Managing Editor." I knew right away I was being called on the bare wood floor. (They couldn't afford a carpet). "We received a letter that disagrees with your column — do you know what that means?"

"I got my first reader?" I asked.

The reader wants to know who let you do a weekly column — how did we get in this predicament — did you ask us if you could write a column?"

I rubbed my chin reflectively. I don't remember but - I thought you asked me!" The concern on the boss's face prompted me to add, "Due to the disagreement, perhaps I could write about something less controversial, like politics, capital punishment, taxes or the like. Or I could write about the joys of publishing a weekly newspaper. We could print it on the comic page."

He laid a fatherly hand upon my shoulder and asked me to be seated. "Jim, this will come as a shock, but everyone doesn't believe the same things you do. I looked blankly out the window. My world had come crashing down around me. "Can it be?" I asked — impossible — "Next thing I know you'll be telling me that not everyone is Baptist."

"Now that you mention it," he confided, "there are a few other beliefs." It looked like I was slipping out of my ivory tower. "I don't know how we got in this predicament if you're a writer I'm Arnold Plmer, and right now I would be better off going to Florida to play golf."

"Do you have a handicap?" I asked.

"You're sitting across the desk from me, and ask if I have a handicap?" I asked.

He jumped to his feet and thumped his desk. "Your salary is being cut in half as of right now!" "What's half of nuthin?" I challenged. "Don't ask silly questions," he countered, "new math should have an answer."

Naturally I defended myself. "I thought my 'column' was one of the 'pillars' of the paper." The pun was more than he could take, for without warning he began beating his head against the wall.

Having accomplished all the 'good' I could, I donned my coat and slipped out the door. As I strolled down the hall a secretary approached holding a fistful of letters. She spied me and yelled, "Oh, mailboy! Would you take these letters to the post office?"

"Don't you know who I am?" I asked earnestly.

"No, who are you?"

"Thank you," I said politely, taking the bundle of envelopes.

I drove home, thoughts whirling around in my mind. My first reader disagrees with me. My boss says I'm a handicap — and a secretary takes me for the mailboy. These thoughts disappeared however when I turned into my driveway. "A man's home is his castle."

Supper passed in silence. Still thinking about my encounter with the new Editor I hadn't said two words since removing my coat. After the delicious dinner I eased my chair back from the table and relaxed. I glanced across at my pretty wife.

"Honey," I said, "It's nice to be home where there's not the slightest doubt about who's boss."

"That's right," she snapped, "get up and take out the garbage...!"

'On the brighter side' needs more 'polish'

To the Editor:

Jim Bradley's commentary "On the Brigher Side" has lately been on the dull side. His childish attack on the editor is an unfortunate incident. His indulgence in self-pity and accussations against others for his failures is indeed poor journalism. In view of Jim's bad lucks, why and how he got space in the editorial page to critize his editor, is a mystery of good luck.

Jim's self-acclaimed boast that his "column would of won me the Nobel Prize" sand that "another article, truly a Pulitzer Prize performance" was ultra boastful. Anybody who is good enough to win Nobel and Pulitzer prizes would not bewriting in a local paper. By his own admission, luck is just not with him... it is always the other guy who is to blame. Poor, oh poor me...if I only had a lolly-pop, I would never, never complain. Jim has been a loser ever since childhood days in softball, football etc. etc. Maybe, if James would act like a gentleman and not a spoiled child, he would get better luck. Certainly, bewailing bad lucks and projecting himself as a greater man, is not a sign of good Christian. Nor does winning trophies a sign of Christian superiority.

Jim boasted that "Harold Stassen wants me to run as his vice-presidential candidate" (Canton Eagle, Nov. 18, '76). What a great pity that Bradley has these great attributes, but the What's-his-name Bard of Michigan Avenue has kept him from being a great success. It would sound more logical if he said that Jimmy Carter asked him to be his vice-president, however, riding a the coat-tail of President Carter does make Jim Bradley a better Baptist. When Bradley boasts that he is a Baptist minister and at the same time says in the Eagle of Nov. 18, '76 (editorial page) that "I went to an astrologer and asked what sign I was born under", there surely is an hypocracy in his faith as a Christian. Apparently Jim is more interested in seeking fame and fortune than service to journalism or the community.

Freedom of information bill is sent to Senate

Gov. William G. Milliken said Tuesday, that he is encouraged by the House's approval of a Freedom of Information bill (HB 6085). The measure, which now goes to the Senate, would provide greater citizen access to written records kept by state and local government agencies.

The Governor said he viewed the bill as a logical companion to the Open Meetings measure which was recently given final legislative approval. "These measures together will significantly enhance the opportunity for citizens to know what their government is doing," "In the long run, the result will be government agencies which are more responsive to the people of Michigan. I am hopeful that the Senate will give prompt attention to this important measure."

The bill would allow citizen access to all written information maintained by state and local agencies unless it falls within one of the specific exemptions in the bill.

Exempted from the disclosure requirement would be such things as information of a personal nature which would constitute invasion of an individual's privacy. Law enforcement investigative records or information which would reveal police personnel deployment plans or communications codes. In formation which is subject to a statutory privilege or is specifically deemed confidential by another law. Competitive bids for government contracts until the bidding period is over, and appraisals of real estate which an agency is interested in buying. Test questions and answers, trade secrets or commercial information voluntarily submitted to a government agency, and internal deliverative communications within an agency provided certain requirements are met.

In all cases, the bill presumes the information is public unless an agency can show it is covered by one of the exceptions. The Governor had recommended adoption of a Freedom of Information bill in his 1976 State of the State Message to the Legislature.

Guest column

Yes, it's really me

Marion E. Snyder, a Westland senior citizen, will be providing us with her insights' into the problems associated with growing old. Mrs. Snyder's articles will appear periodically in Associated Newspapers.

By Marion Snyder

If you are like me, you have read all the articles concerning helping the widowed and widowers. These apperar in newspapers, magazines and even paper back book form. True they help some, but you have to help yourself first.

There is no one now to bolster your ego. No one to ask you to wear a favorite color or to buy a special anniversary gift for, you're committed to being you.

You will pass counters in the stores where your step will falter, because once you would have stopped to buy something for that special someone. What I did may sound cold, and unfeeling to some people, but I have to have clean definite cuts to everything.

So I sold the house, and some furnishings, the rest I gave to the kids. I was moving on.

I moved into an apartment that had two bedrooms so the grandkids could stay over night. I bought a new wardrobe, house dresses don't fit in an office, and I went out into that mad world to find a job. Then one day as I entered the big station wagon he was so proud of, I thought to myself, "This is too much car for me, I'll get something different, and I did: I bought a medium size car that was very smart and easy to handle.

In other words, I kicked over all the boxes of memories and ties of my past life and started making new a new one.

I bought a steamer trunk and carefully placed those things that were his and that I loved. All the mementoes we shared together in the beautiful years we had, with a few tears added for preservatives, I locked tight in that trunk. But it moves whenever I move and I have moved several times, mostly because places seemed to be just something I was trying on.

There were job changes too, until I found that 'one' where I stayed until retirement came early, on disability wings.

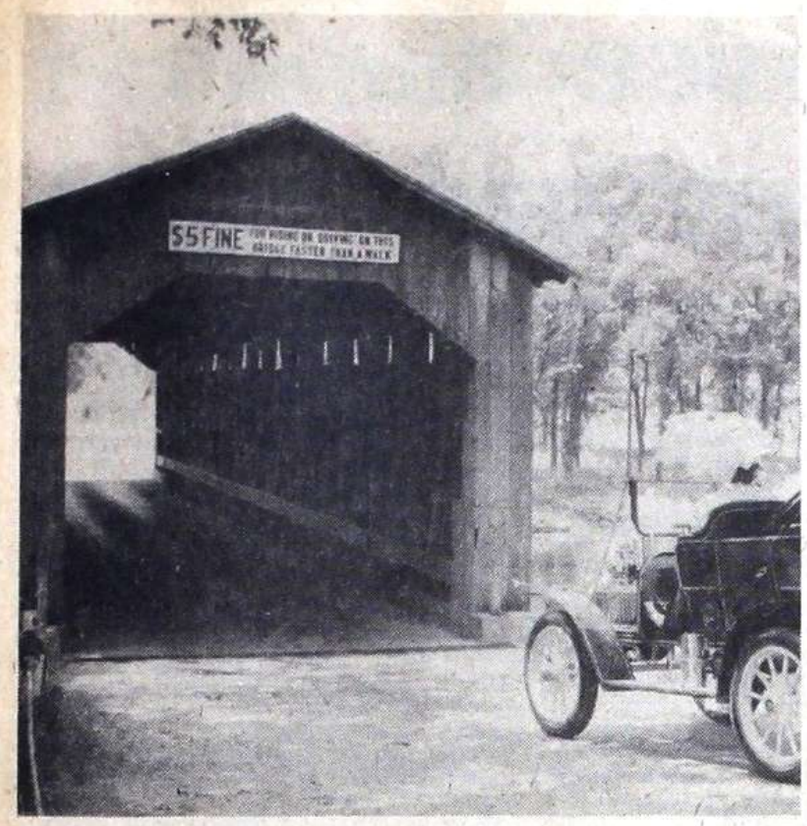
I am convinced I did the smart thing in making a complete and drastic change. I got busy so I had no time for moping and missing past pleasures. There were lonely times and a few more tears, but there were bound to be hold-overs.

I feel sorry for those who cling to past memories and nurse hurt feelings over their loss. Don't keep rooms and whole houses like they were. That won't help, it only enhances your loss. In all those wonderful years we had together, we became as one, but I never fully realized what just being one, would really be like.

I know, being one means many old friends avoid you. It means some may envy your new found independence. Others feel sorry for you, so don't encourage them. Learn that being one is only a temporary state of mind. Be yourself in every way and hold your head high. Don't wish for the past, it's really gone. Look to the future because it's you who will shape it. I have to occasionally stop and say, yes it's reallly me.

Readers are invited to send their opinions on events of pubuc interest to the editor of The Associated Newspapers, 35540 Michigan Avenue, Wayne, 48184. Each letter must include the writer's signature, address and telephone numbers. Letters which do not include the above criteria will not be published.

Names will be withheld from letters to be published only for good reasons. Those reasons must be included on the letter. The request "do not use my name" is not enough and those letters will be published with names. The editor reserves the right to edit and condense letters.



Fallsburg Covered Bridge, a nostalgic reminder.

Bridges are prominent in Michigan

With almost 1,400 square miles of inland waters and 38,575 square miles of Great Lakes water area, it stands to reason that bridges are a prominent feature of Michigan's landscape. The state highway system alone has more than 3,000, excluding those on county roads and city streets, according to the Travel Bureau of the Michigan Department of Commerce.

The most reknown structure, of course, is the Mackinac Bridge which spans the Straits of Mackinac connecting Michigan's two peninsulas. "Big Mac", as it often is referred to, measures 8,344 feet from cable anchorage to cable anchorage, 26,444 feet — five miles — in total length with approaches making it the world's longest total suspension bridge.

It also is known as the world's most beautiful bridge and was designated as one of the seven man-made wonders of the world by the American Institute of Architects. From 1884, when bridging the Straits was first proposed, until Nov. 1, 1957 when it was opened to traffic, it also was known as "the bridge that couldn't be built."

The obstacles were many, the problems almost unsolvable at times but thanks to the genius of its designer, the late Dr. David B. Steinman, and four years of dedicated labor by 10,000 men, the impossible dream came true.

The Houghton-Hancock Bridge also might be called the elevator bridge. It crosses the Portage Lake waterway between Houghton and Keweenaw counties joining the Keweenaw peninsula to the northwestern Upper Peninsula. The bridge's double-deck construction carried a 4-lane highway on the upper level, railroad tracks on the lower. The deck section can be elevated 100 feet above the water. And, when neither trains or large boats are expected, the lower deck can be raised to the highway level allowing cars to cross on the railroad section while small boats pass beneath the bridge.

One of Michigan's most unusual bridges is the Siphon Bridge at Manistique, also in the Upper Peninsula. At first crossing, its most unconventional feature often goes unnoticed. However, the street-like floor of the bridge is well below the water level of the Manistique River. The design of its construction utilizes the water as partial support.

The Zilwaukee, just north of Saginaw, is perhaps one of the states best known — and sometimes most frustrating — bridges, at least to Michiganians or anyone who has traveled north via I-75. It is the bascule-type and when its counter-weighted spans are opened to allow river vessels to pass, highway traffic is halted and cars are sometimes backed up for several miles in both directions.

Three major bridges link Michigan to Canada. The Ambassador Bridge spans the Detroit River between downtown Detroit and Windsor. The Ambassador is a suspension type and was completed in 1929 at a cost of $20 million dollars.

The Blue Water Bridge is a 2-lane, arch type completed in 1938 and crosses the St. Clair River from Port Huron to Sarnia, Ont., Canada.

The third link is the International Bridge completed in 1962. It actually is a series of eight arch and truss bridges crossing the St. Mary's River and internationally famous Soo Locks between Sault Ste. Marie, Michigan and Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Canada.

Newlyweds cruise islands following recent wedding

An 8-day Windjammer cruise through the Bahama Islands followed the recent wedding of Cynthia Kay Elwart and Michael Frederick Shaft at St. Aloysius Catholic Church in Romulus. The newlyweds are now making their home at 4545 Hubbard, Wayne.

The daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Ray Elwart of 37511 Huron River Dr., Romulus, the bride chose for her special day a gown of imported Chantilly lace designed with a bouffant skirt comprised of wide tiers of lace which drifted into a chapel train. The little fitted bodice featured long, fitted sleeves and a square neckline enhanced with iridescent pearls.

Her cathedral-length veil of silk illusion, outlined in scallops of matching lace, was caught to a 2-tiered crystal crown. Completing her bridal ensemble was a cascade bouquet of white silk roses and baby's breath with contrasting red and yellow silk sweetheart roses and greens.

Escorted to her waiting bridegroom by her father, the bride exchanged double ring vows before The Rev. John Buehner at 3 p.m. Dale Bowers was soloist for the occasion accompanying himself on the guitar.

Parents of the bridegroom are Dr. Frederick Shaft of Algonac and Dr. Beverly Handley of Renton, Wash.

As her cousin's maid of honor, Donna Spewock of Dundee wore a cranberry velvet coat over a pink halter dress and a headpiece of pink and white silk roses and baby's breath. The wicker basket she held was filled with a mixture of silk flowers.

Others in the bridal coterie were Dr. Linda Elwart of Davenport, Ia., the bride's sister; Mrs. Ron Lafreniere of Carleton; Susanna Maziarski of Romulus, and Annie Spewock of Dundee, another cousin.

Their pale bue halter gowns were accented with dark blue velvet jackets trimmed with blue boas. Headgear was comprised of silk roses; their wicker baskets containing a variety of silk flowers and greens.

Wearing a light blue version of the bridal gown was the 5-year-old flowergirl, Amy Fairchild, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Fairchild. She, too, had pink and white silk roses for a headdress and a miniature basket of silk flowers to carry.

Four-year-old Jason Elwart, the son of Dr. and Mrs. Dan Elwart, carried out the duties of ringbearer.

Bill Nelson traveled from Grapevine, Texas to serve as best man. Groomsmen included Dr. Dan Elwart of Chelsea, the bride's brother; Joseph Ramirez of New Baltimore; Ron Lafreniere of Carleton and Dennis Musial of Westland.

At the reception which followed at Roma Hall of Ann Arbor, the bride's mother greeted the 300 guests in a pink formal gown with a sequin neckline and long matching coat. The bridegroom's mother chose to wear a peach chiffon gown for the occasion. Both were presented with corsages of pink and white silk roses.

The new Mrs. Shaft graduated from Romulus High School in 1976 and attended Henry Ford Community College for one year in preparation for Chiropratic college. Her husband, a 1973 alumnus of Central High School in Davenport, Iowa, also attended Henry Ford as a prerequisite to chiropractic studies.

Past Matrons hold holiday lunch

The annual Christmas party and December meeting of the Past Matrons' Association of Belleville Chapter No. 73, Order Eastern Star (OES), was held at the West Columbia Avenue home of Past Matron Frances McAtee with 15 members and one guest, Magaly Campos, present.

The usual 12:30 luncheon was served at tables decorated with the yuletide theme. Following a short business meeting conducted by the president, Eva Lupher, and the devotions lead by the chaplain, Dorothy Kellas, the hostess presented two pencil and paper games. Awards were given to Eva Lupher and Katherine Spring for the scrambled words game and to Ruby Clayton and Florence Sugars for "The Price is Right." All enjoyed a gift exchange later and visiting.

The Jan. 6 meeting will be at the home of Past Matron Marie Murphy at 22400 Madison, Dearborn.

Recycling can boost petty cash

If there was ever a period when Detroit area residents could use some extra spending money it is now, during the Christmas season.

And one of the easiest ways of getting that extra cash is through the recycling of aluminum with Reynolds Aluminum Recycling Co.

R. J. Woosley, district recyling manager, reports that during November Detroit area residents turned in more than 28,500 pounds of aluminum cans and other household aluminum, and received in excess of $4,000 for their efforts.

The subsidiary pays 15 cents a pound for all-aluminum cans and other household aluminum such as pie plates, aluminum foil, frozen food and dinner trays, and dip, pudding and meat containers. Certain other items, including aluminum siding, gutters, storm door and window frames, lawn furniture, and tubing are also worth 15 cents a pound if properly prepared. This aluminum must be free of all foreign materials, cut to lengths not exceeding three feet, and should not be mixed with aluminum cans.

As part of the continuing program, a Reynolds mobile recycling unit will visit the—Westland shopping center, 3500 West Warren, Westland (south end of parking lot 5), from 10 a.m. to noon Dec. 18.

Florida church is setting for Hayes-Alexander vows

Blue and white chrysanthemums and red roses graced the altar of the United Methodist Church in Interlachen, Fla. as Rhonda Lynn Alexander and William B. Hayes exchanged wedding bands and nuptial vows.

The Rev. William Aisens presided at the 9 p.m. ceremony at which Harriet Carpenter sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "Because."

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Alexander of Interlachen, Fla. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Louise Hayes of 38907 Wabash, Romulus.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride appeared in a gown of white imported Nottingham lace over pale blue taffeta. The empire bodice was traced with white satin ribbon with a scalloped Bertha collar forming the neckline. The A-line skirt was fashioned in two tiers, each edged with self scallops.

Her fingertip mantilla veil of bridal illusion, edged with Chantilly lace, was overlaid with a lace blusher. The white Bible she carried was covered with an arrangement of red roses and white streamers.

Cindy Alexander of Interlachen was her sister's only attendant. Her candlelight beige gown was cut in toe-touching length and trimmed with lace. She wore baby's breath tucked in her hair and carried an arrangement of pink and blue carnations.

Keith Van Lare of Interlachen was asked to be best man. Danny Alexander and Andrew Patterson, both of Interlachen, served as ushers.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Alexander chose a long rose-colored gown to which she pinned her corsage of pale yellow carnations. Mrs. Hayes, the bridegroom's mother, wore a formal length gown of dark blue and turquoise. She, too, was honored with a yellow carnation corsage.

Some 30 guests attended the reception which followed at the Emerald Room in Silver Springs. The newlyweds later departed for a 2-week honeymoon at Disney World and are now making their home at Cooper Lake near Interlachen.

A graduate of Coronado High School in Lubbock, Texas, the new Mrs. Hayes is employed by the Ford Motor Co. in Jacksonville, Fla. Her husband graduated from Romulus High School and prior to his marriage was employed by the Ford Motor Co. at Rawsonville. He has since been transferred by the company to Jacksonville.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Patterson of Cooper Lake entertained some 25 guests at the rehearsal party. Among those attending were the bride-elect's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Alexander of Alapaha, La., and the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Donna Lewis of Romulus.

Symbols of Christmas

The December meeting of the Huron Valley Garden Club was unusually festive in that the committee for the day had chosen the symbols of Christmas to emphasize. Club president Mrs. Don Blend (from left), and Mrs. Fred Flavell and Mrs. Helen White, co-chairman for the Christmas party, featured holly, mistletoe, pine trees, cards, the Christmas Rose, the chrysanthemum, Christmas wreath and candles during the afternoon. The annual holiday meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Dale Kaulitz of Stanley Drive, Belleville.

Infant is 'star' at shower

By LEE SMITH
Suburban Living Editor

Rodney Corey Hicks was the center of attention at the recent baby shower given in his honor by his grandmother, Mrs. Angeline Hicks of Herman Street, Romulus, and his great-grandmother, Mrs. Otilia Cruz of Taylor.

Rodney, who was born Oct. 18 at Hutzel Hospital in Detroit, wasn't able to go home with his mother when she left the hospital since his weight was only 4 pounds - 1 ounce at birth. But he finally joined his family on Nov. 23 when he gained the required ounces.

Some 20 relatives and friends were on hand to fuss over the new heir and present him with items for his layette and nursery. Coming from River Rouge, Taylor, Dearborn, Westland and Romulus, guests enjoyed a Mexican supper featuring tortillas, tostadas and Spanish rice after the new mother had opened her son's gifts.

Trio shares birthday

We have a feeling that the number "15" is considered somewhat of a lucky figure in the Roman clan since it was on the 15th of December that three generations of the family were born.

Tonight (Dec. 15) the group will gather at the home of Ron and Freda Roman of Sumpter Road for a cake and ice cream celebration honoring Ron's mother, Doris Roman of Sherwood Road; Ron and his son, Rodney, who will chalk up his 6th birthday.

Others expected for the occasion are Doris' husband, Chester, and their other children, Debra, Marisa and Roger; Freda's mother, Mrs. Gracie Neusom, and her sister and family, Reeda Dalton, Ryan and Angela, all of Belleville, Of course, the host family's daughter, Michele, will also be there for a chorus of "Happy Birthday."

Houghton on calendar

The George Aimone family of Lenmoore Road, Belleville, recently returned from a long weekend trip to the Copper Country in the Upper Peninsula. The purpose of their journey was the graduation of their oldest son, Michael, who really made his family proud by graduating with highest honors when he received his bachelor's degree in mechanical engineering from Michigan Technological University.

Mike, who lives in Laurium (the town in which his dad was born) with his wife, Barbara, and their two children, Michelle and Michael, has been tapped for membership in two national honor societies, Phi Kappa Phi and Tau Beta Pi, the engineering honorary.

Although he has received many offers of employment and had interviews all over the country, he still is undecided on which one to accept. After four years in the U. S. Navy and five years in college, Mike and his family are just glad to sit back and relax — for a short time at least.

Spur-of-the moment party

With the unexpected arrival Dec. 2 of her sister and brother-in-law, Diane and Bob Hudspeth from Corpus Christi, Texas, Sharon and Del Packer of Middlebelt Road planned an impromtu family party for the following evening.

The Hudspeths, who were called to Dearborn on business, were welcomed "back home" after an absence of three years. On hand for the get-together were the gals' two brothers, Warner Adams and his wife, Dorothy, of Manchester and Wesley Adams, his wife, Kay, and their daughter, Margo, of Livonia. Also able to make the last-minute invitation were a niece, Claudia Adams, a senior at the University of Michigan, and their aunt, Catherine Woodring of Ann Arbor.

On Sunday the Packers took their houseguests to Dearborn Inn for brunch and then to Greenfield Village for a look at "Christmas Past." The Hudspeths returned to Texas on Tuesday.

Rice is good, easy to cook

Rice is easy to cook. You can boil, steam, oven-cook or fry it. Keep in mind that most kinds of rice swell during cooking. One cup of uncooked white, parboiled or brown rice yields three cups or more; 1 cup of precooked rice yields from 1 cup slightly more than two cups.

To keep as many nutrients as possible in cooked rice, follow these rules: do not wash rice before cooking (packaged rice is already clean), use only the amount of water that rice will absorb during cooking; do not rinse rice after cooking.

At Greenfield Village

Experience Christmas as it used to be

For today's generation, the simple word Christmas is likely to prompt thoughts of aluminum trees, crowded parking lots and an endless stream of January bills. Wouldn't it be nice to go back to the days when Christmas wasn't quite such a hassle?

You can. Until Jan. 2, Greenfield Village in Dearborn presents Christmas the way it used to be, the way we often wish it could be now.

In the Village, three centuries of American Christmases are faithfully remembered and authentically recreated. There, snow is a carpet for horsedrawn sleighs, the savory smells of holiday cookery emanate from many a century-old kitchen and the annual visit by St. Nicholas is still an event to be met with great anticipation. In this carefully researched holiday observance, the Village homes are decorated as they might have been when their original famous owners observed the season. Some of them have seen 300 Christmases, others only a hundred. Together they reflect the quiet kind of Christmas we'd all like to remember.

Step inside the Cotswold Cottage, for instance. Dating to about 1620, it was brought to the Village from England to typify the kinds of homes our ancestors left behind in the Old World. Here, flickering firelight plays on the decorative garlands of holly, ivy and boxwood, ancient symbols of the continuation of life. Outside, on the wellhead, rests a Yule log, another symbol whose steady burning was once thought to guarantee a year of good luck.

Not far away is the one-room Plympton House where traditions brought to America by the Dutch are recalled. On the door hang three oranges on a pine swag to represent the three bags of gold St. Nicholas gave to three young women as a dowry in one of the legends about his generous gift giving. Inside, wooden shoes filled with carrots and straw for St. Nicholas' horse are set on the hearth. A pot of white beans signifies the end of famine in St. Nicholas' home country. Christmas in the 1720's is represented at the Secretary Pearson House, home of the first secretary of state of New Hampshire. In the dining room, a pyramid of luxury imported fruits — oranges from Seville, limes and lemons from the West Indies — grace the table. Such pyramids were both decorative and functional; the diners ate them.

From the ceiling in the hallway of the Ann Arbor House, a Greek Revival structure of the 1840's, hangs a kissing bell made of laurel, mistletoe, apples and beeswax candles. Story has it that young couples would make a game of trying to bite the apples and, in the process, exchange a kiss.

Christmas trees have their place in Village homes as well. In Noah Webester's stately Connecticut home, the tree in the drawing room is decorated with glass balls, birds and candles in tin holders. It is patterned after one of the earliest known illustrations of a Christmas trees in America which appeared in 1836.

Small American flags and candles in tin holders adorn a tabletop tree in the 1860 Henry Ford Birthplace. The idea for such a tree was taken from an 1866 illustration and depicts the nation's patriotic fervor at the end of the Civil War.

Just down the street, in the Wright Brothers' Homestead, the tree is trimmed with glass balls, popcorn and cranberry strings and colored lights — first introduced in 1907.

More than a display of traditional holiday decorations, however, Christmas at the Village also recalls the activity of holidays gone by. Molasses taffy bubbles on the stove in the farmhouse kitchen of the 1816 Edison homestead and visitors are tempted by the warm mincemeat tarts coming out of the oven at the Stephen Foster birthplace.

In the Village Crafts Center, bread baking, broom making, weaving, tinsmithing, glass blowing, pottery making and other century-old skills are demonstrated.

Inside Town Hall, on the Village green, complimentary hot, spiced cider and Christmas cookies await chilly visitors. Across the green, at Clinton Inn, guests may warm themselves beside a roaring fire, enjoying their food amid festive decorations that recreate Christmas in a roadside hostelry of the 1800's.

Outside, carolers wander along the snow-covered streets. Visitors may take a nostalgic ride in a horse-drawn sleigh (snow conditions permitting) or travel the Village perimeter in a restored railway coach of the 1870's pulled by a 100-year-old steam locomotive.

The old-fashioned Christmas observance at Greenfield Village continues daily through Jan. 2 with the exception of Christmas Day and New Year's Day when the Village is closed. Hours are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily.

There is no additional charge for the special Christmas celebration beyond the regular Village admission of $3. for adults and $1.25 for children 6 through 12. Children under six are admitted free.

For up-to-the-minute information on holiday activities, dial the Village Party Line (313) 271-1976. The service is available 24 hours a day.

As in days of yore

Strings of popcorn and cranberries graced many an early American Christmas tree like this one in the parlor of the Wright Brothers' birthplace at Greenfield Village in Dearborn. In addition to the handmade decorations, the tree also features colored electric lights which first appeared on American Christmas trees about 1907. Until Jan. 2, visitors to the Village will see Christmas the way it used to be, the way we often wish it could be now.

Christmas cookie exchange

The Huron Valley Garden Club met for its traditional holiday party Dec. 6 at the home of Mrs. Dale Kaulitz (left). Each member was asked to bring her favorite Christmas cookie which was later used for an exchange of goodies — each taking home the amount she brought. With the hostess at the festively set buffet table are Mrs. John Mac Dermid, club treasurer, (center) and Mrs. James Kause, vice-president.

Girl Scout troops organized at three elementary schools

New Girl Scout troops have been organized at the Gordonier, Hayti and Beverly Schools in Romulus.

Huron Valley Girl Scout Council President Mrs. Fran Bauer announced the appointment of Mrs. Sheila Sterling of 28724 Northline, Romulus, as troop services director for the five troops headquartered at Gordonier and Hayti Schools. In this capacity she is responsible for recruiting troop leaders for 100 Girl Scouts, ranging in age from 6 to 11; for training leaders, providing program ideas, contacting resource people and researching community services and opportunities available to Girl Scout troops. She also assists in coordinating the activities of volunteer troop committee members and acts as liaison between the local troops and the Huron Valley Council.

Troop leaders working with Mrs. Sterling are Mrs. Micky Mann of Dodge Street, Mrs. Merilyn Brymer of Goddard Road and Mrs. June laBenne of Birchdale Drive.

Mrs. Sterling is seeking leaders for an additional Brownie troop and a Junior troop.

Mrs. Faye Johnson of 6055 Essex, Romulus, and Mrs. Helen Thomas of 35541 Alexander, Romulus, have been appointed troop leaders for the Brownie troop which meets at Beverly School. They will coordinate the activities of 6-to 8-year old girls, helping them plan and execute activities of their own choosing. Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Thomas have worked as volunteers with Sesame Street, Children Activity Program and Cufa Work Experience Program.

Troops have not been at Beverly School since 1974.

Plant pointers for green thumb fans

The common green peperomia has a not-so-identical twin: the variegated peperomia (Peperomia obtusifilia variegata).

The low growing, waxy-leaved plant has the same rounded leaves as the all-green peperomia but they are bordered in creamy white to yellow. Red stems add still more color.

To keep the plant brightly variegated, Michigan State University (MSU) horticulturists recommend placing it where it will get plenty of bright light. A spot near a sunny window is best, though the plant will survive with less light.

Unlike some other members of the peperomia family, the variegated form does not require special growing conditions. Average house temperatures and humidity are adequate, though the ideal temperature range is somewhat warmer: 80 to 85 degrees during the day and a minimum of 62 to 65 degrees at night.

The major requirements for good performance by this plant are good drainage and proper watering, the MSU experts say. The plant is susceptible to crown rot if it is overwatered.

Bridges: Prominent feature in Michigan

Six survivors of another century of bridge construction still stand in Michigan linking the past with the present and adding a special charm to the countryside. Through the years, all of these stalwart structures have undergone some degree of restoration or re-enforcement to preserve their life for yet other generations.

The Ada Covered Bridge in Kent County was constructed in 1867. It crosses the Thornapple River and was once an important artery into the village of Ada. Since 1930, however, it has been used for pedestrian traffic only, serving as a short cut betwen the town and a county park.

Picturesque Fallsburg Covered Bridge near Fallsburg was built in 1871 across the Flat River. Its lattice work construction is made of white pine, and it still is safe for automobile traffic.

White's Bridge, constructed in 1867, also crosses the Flat River in Ionia County. It is a through truss type with gable roof and the outside of the trusses sheeted with rough pine boards. Although it is remarkable sound for its age, loads are restricted in the interest of its preservation.

Langley Covered Bridge near Centreville is the longest of the historic structures stretching 282 feet over the backwater to the Sturgis Dam. The dam was constructed in 1911 to confine the waters of the St. Joseph River and provide electricity to the City of Sturgis. Langley too, is utilized by automobile traffic with a load limit of 12 tons.

The fifth bridge is located on private property near Niles in Berrien County. And, No. 6 is the Ackley Covered Bridge in Greenfield Village, Dearborn. The Ackley was built in Pennsylvania in 1832 and moved to Greenfield Village by Henry Ford in 1938.

6-legged guests are nuisances

Drop-in houseguests can be a real nuisance — especially if they're the 6-legged kind. And you may have a horde of them if you store your firewood inside.

Jim Liebherr, Extension entomologist at Michigan State University, advised storing firewood outdoors and carrying in only what you'll use in a week or so.

Wood-boring beetles and carpenter ants are the most common types of insects found in firewood, he observed. Long-horned bettles generally are from three-eights to five-eights inch long and may be brighly colored with yellow and black stripes. They overwinter inside logs as a wormlike larva. They normally transform into the adult stage in the spring. If you bring them indoors, you move their springtime up a few months, and the adults may emerge in the house.

Carpenter ants are large, black ants that nest in the dead heartwood of trees. Their large galleries are easy to see when the wood is cut, and you can check for ant activity then.

Many other insects and spiders use stacked firewood for winter shelter.

Easter Seal Society urges careful examination of toys

Toy-related injuries will wipe out the joy of the holiday season for thousands of youngsters this year. And many of those accidents can be avoided by heeding some common sense precautions, especially by hurried shoppers looking for children's gifts at the last minute.

The National Easter Seal Society suggests that shoppers, including those in Western Wayne County, take a few minutes to examine a toy before buying. That extra time could save a child from serious injury.

Although most toys on the market are safe for children, thanks to comprehensive safety standards developed by the American toy industry, there still are some that are potentially dangerous. The U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission has banned some 1,800 toys in the past three years, most of foreign origin.

Parents can help cut down accidents by providing safe storage space for toys suitable for older children that would be hazardous in the hands of young children. Most of the estimated 150,000 toy related injuries each year occur through misuse of the toys, lack of guidance and adequate instructions.

Be sure your child is old enough or sophisticated enough for the toy you choose. Don't give a 6-year-old shooting toys, or a preschooler a chemistry set.

Beware of rough or sharp edges on toys and stay away from toddlers' toys that come apart easily. Those tiny parts can choke a child.

When shopping for an infant, be sure toy is unbreakable and too big to fit in the child's mouth. A broken piece of plastic can do great damage to a youngster's eyes or ears.

Check all electric toys to be sure that both the cord and the toy itself have UL (Underwriters Laboratory) approval. If not, don't buy it.

Finally, teach your child to use his toys wisely. Go over the instructions with him and be sure he knows how to enjoy the gift safely.

AUTO FACTS

By Chester Kosin

Pioneered by European manufacturers, the air-cooled engine has proven to be a reliable and inexpensive alternative to the water-cooled engine in some small cars and sport models. In an air cooled system, air enters the compartment through ducts in a shroud covering the engine. A fan sends air across the top of the engine. The air passes through a series of cooling fans into the engine block around each cylinder head. The engine heat is picked up by the passing air, and the fan then vents the hot air through ducts at the bottom of the engine.

Keep your car running efficiently throughout the winter months with quality parts and accessories from KOSIN'S AUTO PARTS, 26831 Michigan, Inkster! Traveling this yule? Follow these tips

With the Christmas holidays just a few weeks away many Western Wayne County residents are preparing to travel to distant points to share the spirit of the season.

But residents should have their automobiles winterized in advance and follow these safety tips.

When extended travel is planned, include a car kit as part of the regular gear. Among items to consider are tire chairns, tow chain, snow shovel, sack of sand, flashlight, fire extinguisher, axe, booster cables, windshield scraper, first aid kit, compass road maps, blankets or sleeping bags, paper towels, matches, candles, extra clothing, battery-operated radio and proper car tools.

And remember these do's and don'ts:

— Stop regularly to rest and breaking driving tension.

— Stop regularly to rest and break driving tension.

— Keep the radio on for news on weather predictions.

— Maintain as much gasoline in your tank as you can, stopping frequently for refills.

— In remote areas, travel in convoy with another vehicle, if you can. Try not to be caught alone.

— If weather conditions get rapidly worse, seek shelter.

— If a blizzard traps you on the road, stay in the car. This is where rescuers will find you soonest.

— If you are stuck in deep snow, don't risk a heart attack by frantic shovelling or trying to push a heavy car out of a drift.

— While waiting for help, keep car interior ventilated by opening the window a crack.

— Run motor and heater sparingly. Carbon monoxide fumes can kill.

— Don't keep still for long periods. Exercise by moving arms and legs.

— At night turn the dome light on so work crews can spot you easily.

— Never let all occupants of the car sleep at the same time.

For local 'schussers'

Neighboring country offers ski challenge

With winter definitely making its presence known throughout the country, Western Wayne County skiing enthusiasts are waxing up their skis for weekend outings on the slopes.

And for local schussers looking for new challenges, a neighboring country may have what you're looking for.

For variety and challenge in the Canadian province of Ontario, Thunder Bay has the best skiing. Five ski areas are spotted on four mountains where vertical drops edge close to 800 feet. Runs total 75 miles and each spot has one going a mile or more.

The lift ticket, costing $8 daily, is interchangeable, so with a long enough stay, a skier can try each setup, none of which is more than 16 miles out of town.

Head for Mount Baldy or Mount McKay and you'll mingle with the local skiers at the former town ski clubs. Visitors are more apt to hover around the other three, of which Mount Norway is the smallest. This is where the ski jumpers work out and while trying beginner or intermediate trails, skiers might chance upon members of Canada's national team practising on the 70- or 90-meter jumps.

With three chairlifts and two mountains, Loch Lomond is the one to offer the greatest range of skiing. It has teamed up with nearby Candy Mountain, the youngest of the five, so they can promote all facilities jointly. Candy Mountain, 20 miles away, is the farthest from town and the only one of the five areas without night skiing.

But for people coming in on a package, what is where is merely incidental. Everything is within easy driving distance and all are available on the tow ticket coming with the package.

Now that the ski business has been established in the lakeside city for five years, night life in winter has picked up. Most hotels have entertainment and some ski spots show films, featuring a piano player or group, or have a special supper.

It's quieter midweek but that's when the skiing is best.

For a complete contrast look at Blue Mountain, the largest ski area in the province and a convenient 1½-hour drive from most of southwestern Ontario. Skiers have been swooshing down the 700-foot mountain here for 36 years and now have a choice of 26 trails and 17 tows, one of which is a triple chairlift.

There are six restaurants here, including a cafeteria opened last winter.

Blue Mountain can handle 6,000 skiers an hour, but the average on a weekend is 4,400. That doesn't mean there aren't lineups, but they're short and move quickly.

To avoid all that, it's best to come on a weekday when the average number is only 1,000. Mid-week activity is being encouraged by a $7 lift ticket whereas on the weekend it's $10.

Toronto skiers make up half the traffic but others come from Kitchener and London (buses probably on Wednesdays), from Hamilton (buses three times a week) and out of Detroit-Windsor by chartered transport.

Where Thunder Bay gets two-thirds of its skiers from the United States, Blue Mountain has yet to hit 10 percent. But more and more are coming up from New York state, Michigan, Ohio and Illnois. Of special interest to skiers from any far-off point is the 5-day package which, along with meals, includes 12 hours of instruction, a gluhwein party, Thursday night awards banquet and races, even for novice skiers.

Talisman, some 90 miles northwest of Toronto is becoming popular with day as well as holiday skiers. With a 600-foot vertical drop and three chairlifts, it's one of those small, but complete, resorts which has babysitting services and sleigh rides, as well as snowmaking equipment and apres-ski fun.

Although a bit far for day skiers, Hidden Valley near Huntsville, 140 miles north of Toronto, is another such set-up. There are a half-dozen hotels there, most with night entertainment, but the Holiday Inn at the ski hill has worked out special packages of 1 - to 5-days with Gray Coach Lines. An all-inclusive price (transportation, meals, tow ticket and accommodation) will be as little as $46 for one day, $83 for the weekend and $152 for five days.

Skiers from the eastern part of the province or northern New York State should remember Calabogie Peaks, 60 miles west of Ottawa. The vertical drop here is 750 feet and one run goes 1½ miles. Calabogie has been growing for five to six years and while it mostly serves local skiers, many outsiders are finding that no-lineup at the lifts is worth a longer drive.

Skiers need only to look around if they want a lot of challenge and winter fun.

Ontario has a lot more skiing. Check tour schedules of the bus companies in any city, or if out of the province, write or visit the Canadian Government Office of Tourism for a Ski Ontario booklet, and you'll get the total picture.

Rep. Owen says

State 'rides' recovery road

'...we have, and are continuing, to provide the voltage that turned the light on.'

The effects of inflation, recession, unemployment and a depressed economic climate has had a more exaggerated effect on the State of Michigan because of its dependence of the auto industry, according to one state legislator.

However, State Rep. Gary Owen (D-22nd District) added that by all indications "we may well be on the road to recovery".

"Not only do we in state government see the light at the end of the proverbial tunnel, we have, and are continuing, to provide the voltage that turned the light on," he said.

Owen went on to say that a recent report compiled by the U. S. Census Bureau indicates that Michigan ranks 25th in the nation on the level of total state and local tax burdens on citizens. The combined load on the state last year was $116.65 per $1,000 of personal income, according to the report.

The report is the second favorable one on Michigan's tax climate in the past six months, Owen added. Last June a test by the Advisory Commission on Inter-governmental Relations showed that Michigan leads the nation in the tax revenue equity, the standard by which the fairness of the tax burden on citizens is measured.

In addition, there about 205 industrial projects in Michigan which have taken advantage of tax incentives offered in the Plant Rehabilitation Act, passed by the Legislature in 1974, Owen said. Under that law, local communities can establish plant rehabilitation districts in which companies may modernize or upgrade their facilities without facing higher tax assessments for up to 12 years.

Owen credited that act with preserving some 22,4000 jobs and creating an estimated 16,400 additional jobs.

"Acts such as this one may be partially responsible for the fact that Michigan's unemployment rate has improved dramatically over the past year," the Democrat said. "We are now facing an 8.8 percent unemployent rate, which certainly is serious, but nevertheless a distinct improvement over the 11.2 percent rate of one year ago."

"I am optimistic that Michigan businesses will continue to take advantage of tax incentives such as those in the Plant Rehabilitation Act," Owen added. "A recent survey of businesses indicated that more than half of those questioned said they planned further growth and most of them pointed out that tax incentives had influenced their decision to expand.

"Certainly, Michigan has much farther to go in our struggle to regain a strong economic footing. 'Boom or bust' fluctuations may gradually become a thing of the past under recommendations made by the Michigan Economic Action Council, created by the Legislature in 1975."

"There unfortunately aren't any immediate solutions to the problems we still face," Owen concluded. "However, an improved business climate, a steady decrease in the unemployment rate and a downward trend in inflation indicate to me that we are at least on the right track."

Raffle winner

The Romulus Lions Club held its first raffle recently, with the proceeds going to buy eyeglasses for needy citizens of the city. First prize in the raffle was a gun of the winner's choice. Mary Zimba of 8700 Hollywood, Romulus, was the winner and chose to take a check instead of the gun. Romulus Lions Club Treasurer Archie Vaughn presented the draft to Mrs. Zimba.

Mahalak to serve on panel

State Rep. Edward E. Mahalak (D-Romulus) has been appointed to a special House-Senate committee which will make recommendations to the Legislature on the future of the State Fairgrounds in Detroit.

Committee recommendations will be based upon its studies of the administration and financial operation of the fairgrounds.

According to Mahalak, in recent years there have been various proposals to renovate, reorganize or even relocated the State Fairgounds.

"Any of these would require action by the Legislature," he explained. "It was determined, therefore, that there should be comprehensive House-Senate Committee study to decide what, if anything, should be done to the fairgrounds."

Mahalak said the committee is expected to start its work shortly after the Legislature ends its session later this month. The committee will report its findings and recommendations to the 1977 Legislature.

Mahalak said the special committee will have an open mind in its studies.

"We will want to do what is best for the fair and the citizens of Michigan," he added.

The special committee consists of five House members and five Senate members.

Pharmacists warn parents about yuletide poisonings

'Fireplace color compounds are very dangerous...'

Christmas and New Year's is a particularly hazardous time. With all the excitement and festivities underway Western Wayne County residents often may forget that many holiday gift items can be potentially dangerous, if handled or used improperly.

Louis Sesti, executive director of the Michigan Pharmacists Association (MPA), is cautioning everyone, especially parents, to be aware of additional items in the home at this season that may cause poisoning.

"Fireplace color compounds are very dangerous," said Sesti. "These and special logs which burn different colors contain heavy metals such as lead, arsenic salt and bismuth. Swallowing three of four ounces can be fatal.

"Other popular holiday hazards are the berries and leaves from both mistletoe and holly. Common sense will tell you that these are not safe decorations to have around children or pets."

"Parents also should remember to secure all liquor from children," he added. "Alcohol is dangerous to youngsters, especially if consumed directly from the bottle undiluted. A couple of ounces of liquor can depress the nervous system or drop blood sugar to produce death."

Sesti also cautioned parents to take special care to see that children understand how to use craft materials safety. Some of the items can be dangerous, if youngsters feel they look "good enough to eat". Children should be taught the difference between food and household decorations and cleaning items, he added.

By tradition, the stuffed turkey has long been the favorite entree of holiday dinners. However, residents never should forget that improperly stuffed fowl can cause dangerous salmonella poisoning. For absolute safety, stuffing or dressing should be cooked in a separate container. If cooked inside the turkey, it should be placed in the turkey just beofre going into the oven, and it is imperative that the stuffing be cooked completely. This is the only way to help alleviate any danger of harmful bacteria.

The favorite Christmas plant, the poinsettia, has had a long and undeserved reputation for being toxic. Although the plant represents some danger, eating parts of it will only cause irritation and extreme illness but not death as once was thought.

With the multitude of holiday gifts and decorations in the home such as after shave lotions, colognes, house plants and greens, it is very difficult for parents to be completely knowledgeable in what is and isn't dangerous. That is why the Michigan Pharmacists Association urges parents to place the phone number of a Poison Control Center next to your telephone.

county, or other political subdivision, no annual contributions by the Secretary shall be made available for such project unless and until the State, city, county, or other political subdivision in which such project is situated shall contribute, in the form of cash or tax remission, the amount by which the taxes paid with respect to the project exceed 10 per centum of the annual shelter rents charged in such project."

(7) Under section 6 (e) of the Act;

(c) * * * whenever in any year the receipts of a public housing agency in connection with a low-income housing project exceed its expenditures (including debt service, operation, maintenance, establishment of reserves, and other costs and charges), an amount equal to such excess shall be applied, or set aside for application, to purposes which, in the determination of the Secretary will effect a reduction in the amount of subsequent annual contributions."

(8) Under section 6 (f) of the Act:

(f) * * * when the public housing agency and the Secretary mutually agree that a housing project is obsolete as to physical condition, or location, or other factors, making it unusable for housing purposes, a program of modifications or closeout shall be prepared. * * *

(9) Under section 12 of the Act:

* * * not less than the wages prevailing in the locality, as determined or adopted (subsequent to a determination under applicable State or local law) by the Secretary, shall be paid to all architects, technical engineers, draftsmen and technicians employed in the development, and all maintenance laborers and mechanics employed in the operation, of the low-income housing project involved; and * * * not less than the wages prevailing in the locality, as predetermined by the Secretary of Labor pursuant to the Davis-Bacon Act (49 Stat. 1011), shall be paid to all laborers and mechanics employed in the development of the project involved (including a project with nine or more units assisted under section 8 of this Act, where the public housing agency or the Secretary and the building or sponsor enter into a agreement for such use before construction or rehabilitation is commenced). * * *

(G) Clean Air Act and Federal Water Pollution Control Act

The local Authority shall incorporate or cause to be incorporated into any contract for construction or substantial rehabilitation, such clause or clauses as are required by the Governent for compliance with the regulations issued by the Environmental Protection Agency pursuant to the Clean Air Act, as amended, the Federal Water Pollution Control Act, as amended, and Executive Order 11738. The Local Authority shall cooperate with the Government in the conducting of compliance reviews pursuant to said Acts and Regulations.

(H) Flood Disaster Protection Act

The Local Authority shall incorporate or cause to be incorporated into any contract for new construction or substantial rehabilitation the following clause (and the Local Authority shall itself comply with such clause when it is the owner);

"If the Project is located in an area that has been identified by the Secretary of Housing and Urban Development as an area having special flood hazards and if the sale of flood insurance has been made available under the National Flood Insurance Act of 1968, the Owner agrees that the Project will be covered, during its anticipated economic or useful life, by flood insurance in an amount at least equal to its development or project cost (less estimated land cost) or to the maximum limit of coverage made available with respect to the particular type of property under the National Flood Insurance Act of 1968, whichever is less."

7. Section 9 (E) is further revised by adding thereto RHM list No. V-28-76-019

The modifications made in the Contract by the execution of this Amendatory Agreement shall not be deemed to affect in any manner any preceedings taken, or any act or thing done, by the Local Authority, pursuant to the Provisions of the Contract prior to the date of this Amendatory Agreement, and all such proceedings properly taken, and all such acts or things properly done, pursuant to and in compliance with the provisions of said Contract, shall be deemed to have been properly taken, done and performed under the Contract, as modified and revised by this Amendatory Agreement.

'Game-saver'

With five seconds left in the game, Daran Armstrong, (above) John Glenn's sophomore guard, came through with an 18-foot jump shot that found its mark and broke a 53-all deadlock, giving Coach Gordie Davis' Rockets a close 55-53 victory over visiting Garden City East Friday night. The game brought the curtains up on the 1976-77 Northwest Suburban Conference basketball campaign.

Glenn edges East, 55-53

Armstrong's jump shot wins for Rockets

Bouncing back from their first loss of the season, Westland John Glenn and Coach Gorfie Davis tossed their hats into the Northwest Suburban Conference basketball title rink by coming from behind to edge Garden City East 55-53 Friday night.

It took an 18-foot jump shot by sophomore guard Daran Armstrong to settle the issue in Westland's favor.

East's Bob Davis sank both ends of a one-and-one to tie the game at 53-all with 36 seconds left on the clock. That brought Coach Davis to his feet and he called for a time out.

When play resumed Glenn got the ball to its 5-10 sophomore guard, Armstrong who hit on the decisive jumper, leaving only five seconds for East to regroup. The Panthers managed to throw away the inbound pass.

"It was a good game to win," Coach Davis commended. "East's deliberate style of play caused us some problems, we're glad to pull it out."

Glenn took a 13-8 first period lead, but East rallied behind Jim Dziekan and Dan Loacano who staked the Panthers to a 29-22 halftime asvantage. The visitors remained ahead 39-26 after three periods before the Westlanders' surged back.

Dan Diadiun, who was in early foul trouble and sat out the second period. and Armstrong, who drilled in 12 points in the second half, paced the Rockets' comeback.

Diadiun finished with a team high 21 points and Armstrong added 12. Loacano, credited with keeping the Panthers in the game, scored on nine field goals and four free throws for 22 points and individual honors.

Both teams hauled down 31 rebounds while Glenn made 5 of 11 free throws as compared to East's 21 of 26.

Taylor Center snapped Glenn's three-game winning steak, 59-50 earlier in the week. The game was closer than the final score indicates. Tied at 16-all at the end of the opening period, Taylor took a five-point, 31-26 halftime edge and stayed out in front 48-42 for three-periods.

With four minutes left in the game, Glenn closed the gap to five, however, the Rams explosive in the stretch as Mike Shafralas came alive and scored 12 of his 18 points in the final two periods.

"We tried a trapping-type defense in that last period, but Taylor handled it quite well," Davis remarked. "It was a close game until those final minutes."

Diadiun and Armstrong split 24 points and teammate Scott Wicker chipped in with 10 for the losers. Tyrone Jordan led all scorers with 20 and Shafralas contributed 18.

Spartans place Tri-River cage lead on the block

Cherry Hill's cage machine, turning out 80 points per game, clashes into co-league leader, Taylor Kennedy, Friday night to determine which will stay atop of the Tri-River Conference.

Coach Dick McNally's Spartans, which overpowered Dearborn Heights Riverside 83-58 and non-league rival Taylor Truman, 80-72 last Tuesday, will travel to Kennedy for the showdown contest.

"Whether there is any validity in our claim as a contender will be determined Friday," said McNally. "Kennedy has won both of its league starts and I feel this is a very big game for both teams."

With all five of its starters scoring in double figures, Cherry Hill proved it had just too much for host Riverside which fell behind 26-15 in the first period and never posed a serious threat the rest of the way.

The Spartans held the upper-hand 42-28 at halftime, increased their margin by six after three periods, then outscored the Rebels 23-18 in

Wayne mauls Monroe, 70-58

By TOM MOORADIAN
Sports Editor

Wayne may be down, but it definitely isn't out of the Great Lakes 8 Conference basketball title race.

Coach Bill Hawley's quintet picked themselves up after losing their opening league game to Fordson to beat nonleague rival, Garden City East 49-43 last Tuesday and even up its league record (1-1) at the expense of Monroe 70-58.

The Zebras' next - and crucial test - comes Friday night when they travel to once-beaten Taylor Center's lair. Taylor lost to Fordson in the final minutes and Wayne can't afford a second setback if it hopes to cught the fleeing Fordsonites.

Jim Lentine's phenomenal free-throwing shooting and Bill Crews' eight points in the second period lifted Wayne past Monroe, the defending league champ, Friday night.

Lentine hit 15 straight at the free throw line the last two were disallowed because of lane violations, and ended up with 13 of 16 charities plus two baskets for a game and career high 17 points against Monroe.

Crews brought Wayne back after the Zebras fell behind 18-12 after the first period. He sank eight points as Wayne outscored their hosts 24-14 in the second period to take command 36-32 at intermission.

Wayne's defense took over in the second half, allowing only eight points in the third period which widened the gap to 50-40 for three periods.

Wayne also outscored the Trojans 20-18 in the final eight minutes of the game.

"We played with more intensity on defense in the second half and got our offense moving," said Hawley, "so, we were able to take charge. The team is beginning to jell," Hawley added.

Monroe, which leaped to a 10-2 advantage thanks to 6-4 forward Vern Monroe, never regained the lead after relignuishing it late in the second period. The Trojans hit on 23 of 57 shots from the field and scored on 12 of 20 from the free throw line. They edged Wayne on the boards 50-48.

Wayne shot 19 of 47 from the field and realized 32 of 36 from the foul line.

Along with Lentine, Crews and Tim Couch reached double figures.

Wayne and East were locked in a proverbial "nip-and-tuck" affair as the two out-of-conference rivals were deadlocked at 10-all and 18-all after the first two periods.

Wayne outscored the Panthers 19-12 in the third period. But it wasn't until Crews' tap-in basket of a missed free throw which put the Zebras up by three, 46-43, with 50 seconds left in the game that the visitors managed to sew it up.

East attempted to foul to regain possession of the ball, but Wayne converted three of four charities in the last minute.

East attempted to foul to regain possession of the ball, but Wayne converted three of four charities in the last minute.

Crews finished with 11 points, one less than Couch who had his team's high of 12 points. Bill Philip, who came off the bench in the second and third periods, provided Wayne with the sparks as he sank four points in each appearance.

Tar/Taste

Theory Exploded.

Taste-science breakthrough gives low tar MERIT the flavor of cigarettes having 60% more tar.

By locating certain flavor-rich ingredients in cigarette smoke, ingredients that deliver taste way out of proportion to tar, researchers at Philip Morris have disproven the theory that cigarette flavor depends on the amount of tar that goes with it.

They've discovered how to pack flavor—unprecedented flavor—into a cigarette that delivers one of the lowest tar levels in smoking today.

The discovery is called 'Enriched Flavor.'™ It's extra flavor, natural flavor, and only MERIT has it.

In taste tests involving thousands of cigarette smokers like yourself, MERIT was reported to deliver as much—or more—taste than current low tar leaders.

What's really startling is that these brands have up to 60% more tar than MERIT.

Canton cagers claim historic victory over Belleville, 74-73

After a historic basketball defeat at the hands of Plymouth Canton, Belleville recovered from the shock to give Trenton a scare in their Suburban 8 Conference confrontation Friday night.

Canton stunned Coach Tom Niemi's Tigers 74-73 on Butch King's jump shot with five seconds left in the game — it was the first time in the two schools' history that Canton had ever beaten a Belleville cage team.

"We were very apprehensive after that Canton game just how we would stand up to Trenton," Neimi said, "but, I believe, we played our best ball game of the season against a big Trenton club."

The 58-55 loss to Trenton was Belleville's first in the league, leaving the Tigers with a 1-1 record. They are 1-3 on the season and will take on Redford Union Friday for their next conference game.

With 49 seconds left in the Trenton game, Belleville had a two-point lead but Jay MacDonald stole an inbound pass and drove in for a layup to tie the score at 55-all.

Belleville came back to try to break the deadlock, but turned the ball over again and the Trojans managed to get it to Mark Welch who scored on a three-point play to ice the game.

Up to that point, it was anyone's ball game. Belleville held the edge 16-15 after the first eight minutes, then increased the margin 27-24 after two periods.

At one stage in the third period Belleville had built up a nine point lead before Trenton recovered and outscored the Tigers 23-12 in the final eight minutes.

Kelvin Patterson led the Tiger assault with 14 points, while teammates Ron Johnson and Herb Burrus chipped in with 11 and 10 points, respectively. Belleville made use of five of nine free throws as compared to Trenton's 12 of 19 output.

Ray Bloch paced all scorers as the Trojan sharpshooter sank seven field goals and picked up seven free throws for 21 points. Welch finished with 10.

Canton refused to quit against Belleville and pulled out the cliffhanger in the final seconds of the game. With 10 seconds remaining in the game, Johnson scored on a tap-in to give the Tigers a 73-72 edge, then Canton came back with King's game-winning jumper.

Belleville led by as much as 10 points in the second period after holding the upper hand at 16-15 after eight minutes of play. The Tigers were still ahead at halftime 36-33 before the Chiefs counter-attacked in the second half.

Mike Albright was tought on Belleville's defense as he sparked a balanced Canton attack with 20 points. King, along with the winning basket, wound up with 17 points while Keith Fuelling and Rob Mandle accounted for 12 and 10 points respectively.

Patterson was again highman for the Tigers, hitting on seven from the field and one free throw for 15 points, Harold Dennis and Kevin Barnes split 22 points between them and Johnson contributed 10.

Franklin starts title defense with close win

By TOM MOORADIAN
Sports Editor

Livonia Franklin and Coach Bob Visser may have its basketball problems when it come to out of the league competition, but they feel right at thome in the Northwest Suburban Conference.

Visser's Patriots began the defense of their conference title Friday night with a thrilling 56-54 victory over Thurston.

And all the dramatics of a come-from-behind win were there.

Down by four points in the last minute of play, the defending champs managed to tie up the game at 54-all on a corner baseline 17-foot shot by Ken Scarpace.

Then, with five seconds left, Franklin's John Zannis stole the in-bound pass under the basket and before he was able to put it up for an easy lay-up, Zannis was fouled.

Thurston called two consecutive time-outs to rattle the young cager who responded by making both free throws to clinch the game for the Patriots.

"Our boys just didn't want to lose this game," Visser said. "They played excellent defense and refused to quit. The score was tied at least five times in the second half of the fourth period."

Thurston called two consecutive time-outs to rattle the young cager who responded by making both free throws to clinch the game for the Patriots.

"Our boys just didn't want to lose this game," Visser said. "They palyed excellent defense and refused to quit. The score was tied at least five times in the second half of the fourth period."

Thurston took an 18-12 first period lead and hung on till intermission 33-26. However, Franklin came back to outscore the Eagles 16-8 in the third period, moving into the final period with a slim 42-41 edge.

Franklin made 51 percent of its shots from the field, capitalizing upon 20 of 30 while they canned 16 of 23 at the free throw line. Thurston could have won it with a sharper performance at the line. They settled for 14 of 32 charities.

Scarpace finished the eveining with 16 points, good enough to lead all scorers. Zannis, who made three of ffur from the free throw line, also sank five from the field for 13 points. Also in two figures was Jeff Phillips, who settled for 10.

Thurston's lone player in double scoring figures was Dave Beebe who finished with 15.

In a city matchup between Franklin and Bentley, Bentley emerged atop of a 49-45 nonleague decision.

Bentley, which boasts in its lineup West German exchange student, Flo Homm, had its problems shaking the Patriots who rallied from a 12-9 first period deficit to tie the score at 21-all at the half.

Franklin went ahead 32-29 as the stubborn Patriot defense yielded only eight points in the third paeiod, however, Homm, a strong 6-7 pivotman, sparked a late Bulldog comeback which enabled the undefeated Suburban 8 Conference representative to pick up its third consecutive victory.

"I felt we played an outstanding ball-controlled game," Visser offered. "However, their front line, made up of players 6-6, 6-7, 6-5 eventually got to us."

Franklin hit on 18 of its 32 shots from the field for 56 percent and realized nine of 14 from the free throw line. Bentley sank 13 of 24 baskets and ecapitalized on 13 of 24 free throws.

"The reason for the low shooting game," explained Visser, "was that we held the ball, going in for only the lay-up, the 90 percent shot. In the closing minutes, however, we got anxious and tried some shots we shouldn't — in fact, we beat ourselves."

Scarpace again was highman for the Patriots as he cashed in on eight field goals and one free throw for 17 points, Zannis had 10 while Mike Kaseta, nursing a knee injury, made a brief appearance and scored eight.

Homm wound up with the game's high of 19 points while Craig Fuelling and Dale Dinsmore supported him with 11 and 10 respectively.

Franklin will resume league play Friday night, heading for North Farmington which will making its league debut against the defending champs.

Wayne bounces back

Westland John Glenn may have a better tournament team than Wayne Memorial, but Wayne showed it can handle its arch-rivals on the mats in dual meet competition.

Glenn won the season's opening Western Wayne Invitational, dethroning Wayne a week ago, however, Coach Don Haney's grapplers came back and won a 33-26 decision from the Westlanders in a dual last Tuesday.

It was Wayne's first dual meet of the season.

Haney's people opened the defense of their Great Lakes 8 Conference title last Thursday, turning back Dearborn Fordson 49-20.

Wayne has not lost a dual meet in the league or the surrendered the conference championship since the inception of the Great Lakes 8 four years ago.

Wayne dominates own Quad Meet

By TOM MOORADIAN
Sports Editor

Though they are still having problems filling their lineup in the first two weight classes, perennial Class A state wrestling powerhouse, Wayne Memorial, put together a team that easily won its own quadrangular meet Saturday.

JAN PLEVAK

Wayne mustered 163 points to beat out Farmington for first place. Farmington garnered 130 points, finishing ahead of Dearborn Heights Annapolis (120) and Hazel Park (119½).

Wayne managed to place 10 of its wrestlers in the finals, however, only two came off the mats with gold medals.

"That's evidence of the caliber and quality of competition which was here for the tournament," said Wayne Coach Don Haney. "We saw some excellent wrestlers and I'm sure our boys realized that there is a lots of work ahead of us."

Wayne's two gold medalists were Randy Pittman who advanced to the finals of the 126-pound class where he met Hazel Park's Joe Craig. Pittman, an All-Area selection a year ago, earned a 11-7 victory. Teammate Tim Clark was also awarded a gold medal for his efforts in the 132-pound class.
born Heights' Gary McDermott and pinned his rival in 1:59.

The varsity also earned nine second place medals with Kevin Tracy (112), Bob Wanshon (119), Corry Bachus (130), Chris Bachus (145), David Lusk (155), Chris Leverenz (178), Doug Ford (191) and heavyweight Kevin Wilson.

In the reserve phase of the competition, Wayne again took the first place trophy, beating Hazel Park by approximately 40 points. Wayne amassed 151½ points as compared to Hazel Park's 118. Annapolis finished third with 94½ and Farmington was fourth with 79.

The local grapplers garnered eight medals, six of those gold. Gold medals were presented to Bob Kroll (126), Bryan Krick (132), Mike Lazarz (138), Kevin Pardee (155), Jeff Bovia (165) and Don Parr (191).

Silver medals went to Farrin Cunningham (145) and Mike Racinslei (170).

NMU awards Wayne's Plevak varsity letter

Sophomore Jan Plevak, a former Wayne Memorial student, was awarded a varsity numeral as a member of Northern Michigan University's field hockey team.

Ms. Plevak stopped 30 shots as NMU's goalie. Another goalie, Barb Frost, a Livonia Churchill alumni, also earned her first stripe. Frost was accredited with 83 saves for the Wildcats.

Upon the recommendations of Coach Barb Patrick and assistant athletic director Luzonne Darr, the Northern Michigan Athletic Council had approved the granting of varsity awards to 14 members of the 1976 NMU field hockey team.

The Wildcats, with eight first year players in their lineup, battled Central Michigan to a scoreless tie in the championship game of the Michigan state tournament, and finished fourth in the Association of Intercollegiate Athletes for Women (AIWA) midwest regional tourney.

Glenn bests Trenton

Westland John Glenn left little doubt in anyone's mind which was the best team at the Trenton double dual held over the weekend.

Coach Bob Lusk's Rockets, the multi-Northwest Suburban Conference champs - they've won the last six titles - trampled Trenton 55-6, crushed Ann Arbor Huron 59-9 while whipping Farmington Harrison 46-20.

Glenn will open its defense of the conference title on Thursday, taking on an improved North Farmington contingent on the home mats. Wrestling will begin at 6:30 p.m.

Belleville pins mat favorite

Belleville's Gerald Malecek isn't talking championships, as yet - it's too early - but his Tiger wrestlers took a giant step toward the Suburban 8 Conference title by whipping pre-season favorite, Plymouth Salem 32-22 last Thursday.

The match was the first in the league for both teams.

"We had to beat them if we were to be considered as contenders," Malecek said. "They were considered by most of the coaches as the 'team to beat' in our league and our boys went out and defeated them."

Malecek credits an earlier loss, to out of the league rival, Adrian (39-15) as a good tune-up for the Salem confrontation.

"The score against Adrian isn't indicative of the closeness of the match," Malecek explained. "Three matches really decided it and those matches could have gone either way.

"However, Adrian helped us get ready for Salem," Malecek added.

Belleville has a busy schedule this week. The Tigers wrestled in double dual meet at Belleville Tuesday, then head for Livonia Bentley on Thursday for their second league contest and will compete in the Chelsea Invitational on Saturday.

Belleville will also compete in the prestigious Wayne Invitational next Wednesday.

Garden City coed is fast runner

A co-ed who placed nationally and two men who earned all-conference recognition paced the Schoolcraft College cross country team this season.

The co-ed, Sylvia DeLage of Garden City, placed eighth among 17 runners in the first National Junior College Athletic Association (NJCAA) cross country race for women. She covered a two and one-half mile Farmingdale, New York course in 15:56.

Prior to the nationals, Ms. DeLage had competed with and against men as a member of the Schoolcraft squad at distances from three to five miles. Her best time at the longest distance was 33:19, good for 33rd place (out of 35) in the Eastern Conference meet. She was the only woman entered.

DOUBLE UP AMERICA!

The first tax shelter for the little guy.

If you're not now in an employer-sponsored pension or profit sharing plan where you work, act fast and you can save yourself a lot of tax dollars this year.
You can postpone paying Federal income taxes on 15% of what you earn this year, up to a maximum of $1500.*

By opening an Individual Retirement Account (IRA) at National Bank of Detroit by Dec. 31.

How it works.

An IRA is your own personal pension fund.

The money you put into the IRA, and the interest that money earns, are exempt from federal income taxes until the money is withdrawn.

At retirement age, when you begin to withdraw money, you're likely to be in a lower tax bracket, which means an additional tax reduction.

We'll help you set it up.

You can open an IRA at any NBD office. We'll answer your questions and help you select the NBD savings plan that's best for you. And you can walk away secure in knowing your money is protected by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, and by the substantial capital of Michigan's biggest bank.

Open your account now.

Interest rates on savings at NBD have never been higher—a full 7-1/2% annual interest over 6 years on Investment Savings Certificates in amounts of $1,000 or more. (Substantial interest penalty required for early withdrawal.)

Come in and open your IRA today. It's about time you got a tax break. But you have to act now.

MHSAA announces playoff sites

Though there's plenty of time before the annual "March Madness" begins, the Michigan High School Athletic Association this week released the sited for the prep basketball district tournaments.

Belleville will return to Ypsilanti again this year in hopes of winning a district title. Coach Tom Niemi's Tigers will also find Monroe, Romulus, Temperance-Bedford, Trenton and Ypsilanti ready for battle.

Livonia Churchill is also host of a Class A district. Teams involved include Detroit Denby, Detroit Pershing, Livonia Bentley, Livonia Franklin, Livonia Stevenson and Churchill.

Wayne Memorial and Westland John Glenn will travel to Dearborn Fordson in quest of a Class A district title. The district includes teams from Edsel Ford, Fordson, Taylor Kennedy and Taylor Center.

Plymouth Canton and Plymouth Salem are pitted in the same district, at Southfield High where Milford, Milford Lakeland, Northville and Southfield are scheduled to see action.

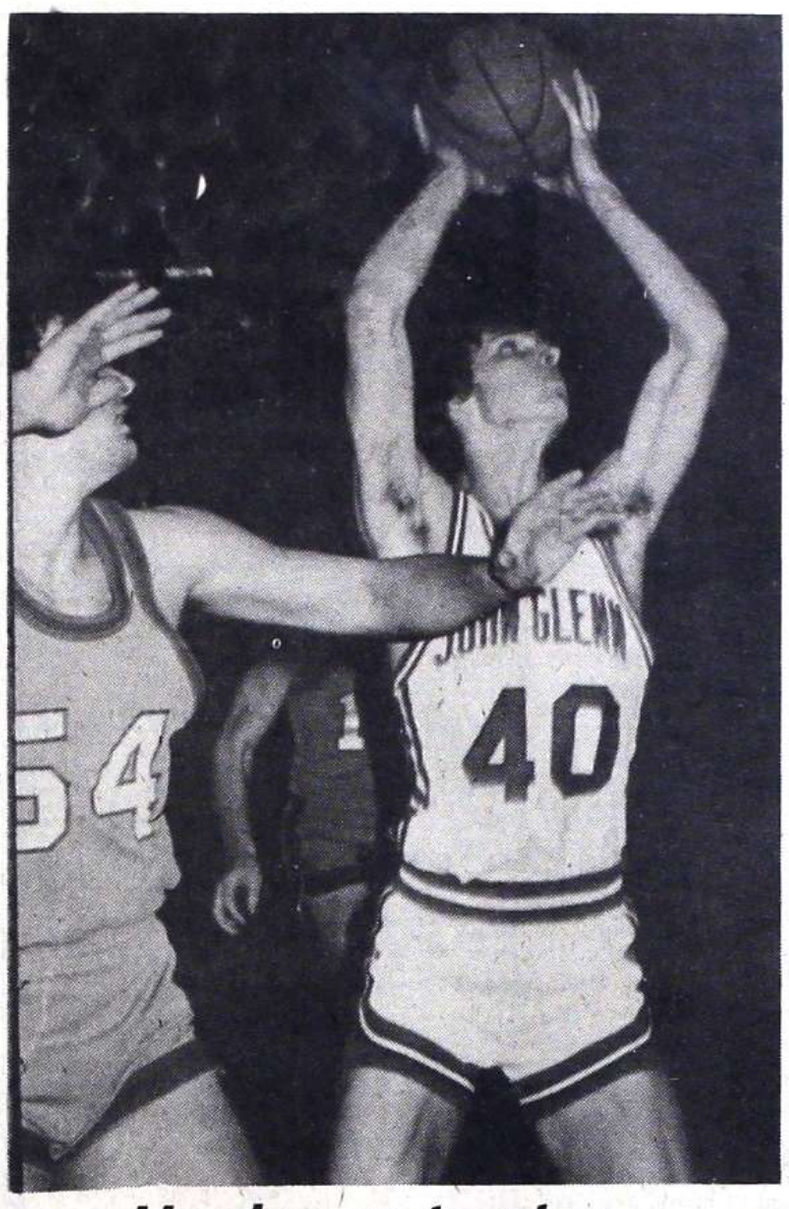
Meanwhile, in Class B, Cherry Hill will have to get past the likes of Dearborn Heights Riverside, Detroit University of Detroit, Inkster, Clarenceville or Oak Park at U of D High in order to survive district competition.

New Boston Huron will make its bid for a Class B playoff title at the Saline High district where teams from Carleton-Airport, Gibraltar Carlson, Milan, Monroe Catholic Central, Monroe Jefferson and Saline will be paired.

District competition is scheduled for the first week of March while the regionals will be staged between March 8-12. The state quarter-finals are Thurs., March 17 and the semi-finals will be held St., March 19 at Michigan State University, East Lansing, along at Traverse City and Cheboygan.

The finals in all classes will be played St., March 26 in the Crisler Arena, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor.

The determination of locations and assignments of classes and teams to each tournament were made by the MHDAA basketball tournament committees in the Upper and Lower Peninsulas.



Hard man to stop

High-flying and high-scoring Dan Diadiun (40) slips past Garden City East's Phil Emery (54) en route to two of his 21 points that helped Westland John Glenn overcome a stubborn Garden City East quintet Friday night 55-53. The game brought the curtains up in the Northwest Suburban Conference. Glenn shoots for its second league win, (its fourth in five starts) Friday night at Thurston, a loser to Franklin in their opener

Belleville wins own swim relays

Belleville continued its monopoly of its annual swim relays last week as Coach Sam Vicchy's Tigers swept five of the eight events to retain the championship for the fifth consecutive year.

The perennial swim champs garnered 42 points to outdistance its nearest rival, Detroit Catholic Central which had 27. Trailing the two pacesetters were Wyandotte (22), Fordson (17) and Wayne Memorial (15).

"This was our best performance at our relays," Vicchy remarked. "We took five first places - all in record-breaking time and also placed second where we didn't win the event."

the final eight minutes.

Jim Steudle led a balanced Cherry Hill assault, hitting on six field goals and eight free throws for 20 points. Teammate Keith Steward added 15, while Mark Lipinski and Dennis Gunn each chipped in with 13. Floyd Simmons accounted for 10 points.

The victory padded Cherry Hill's over-all record to 4-1 on the season. Their only loss is to Westland John Glenn.

Mark Lispinski led a second period Spartan rally which helped erased a 19-12 first period Talyor Truman lead and give Cherry Hill a narrow 36-35 halftime edge over their non-league rivals.

The Spartans went on to outscore their foes 24-19 and 20-18 in the last two periods.

"We spotted them four to five inches per man," said McNally, "and, needless to say, I'm happy the way our players reacted against a bigger opponent."

Lipinski had this best scoring night thus far of the young campaign, amassing 10 baskets and three free throws for a game high 23 points. He was supported by Gunn who counted 18 while Steward and Steudle each added 10.

Co-ed is fast runner

As a team, Schoolcraft finished third in the Conference championship held at Palmer Park. Brian Bennett of Plymouth finished fourth at 25:49 and Alan VanMeter of Farmington finished sixth at 26:08. The times were season's bests, and resulted in both being named all-conference, the first from Schoolcraft since 1973.

Gary Leads of Detroit also ran his fastest time for the year with 28:10 in the conference. Dave Wright broke the 30-minute barrier at 29:54, and Jeff Gaff ran his best ime at 31:31, a three minute improvement over his first race of the season; both are Livonians.

According to Coach John Carroll, the season can be described as the most successful of recent years.

Title: "Hi Santa, It's Me, Billy"

"Hi Santa, It's me, Billy remember from last year
When I sat upon your knee,
and whispered in your ear?
Well, Santa, you sure answered me, for that bright red wagon came
And though I didn't ask for it, you even sent a game.
But the reason I came back this year, is not to ask for toys
Cause I'm older this year, Santa, Mama says I'm a real big boy.
But after Christmas time last year, when the snow had left the ground.
Daddy moved away from home, and he never comes around.
Santa, I don't know why he left, but Mama says someday I will.
And that things don't always work out like we plan.
Even though we hope that they will.
She says that Daddy will come back someday,
And that he's gone searching for roots.
Which brings me to the reason I'm here,
Could you please send my Daddy some roots?
The wagon was fun to ride in, as Daddy would pull me along,
And he never complained bout his feet being cold;
But often he'd sing a song."
"When I get the money, I'll buy me some boots and I'll play with my son in the snow."
"But, Santa, somehow that day never come,
And he had none when he left, that I know.
I remember him kissin me and Mama goodbye,
And then saying somethin bout roots.
And he said when we saw him again someday
He'd be wearin that new pair of boots.
Though we don't know where he's living,
Santa, we know that you do.
And want to know something else, Santa Claus?
My Dad looks a whole lot like you.

Now, I don't want any toys this year, but,
The best gift that I could receive,
Is to know that my Daddy got his new boots.

5. Personals

Then maybe he'd come home to live.
Well, Thank you for listenin Santa, and in case you don't see me no more,
It's cause I'll be even bigger next year,
Cause you see, I'm already 4".
"Tears filled my eyes as I listened,
Then he climed down off of my knee.
And no one else in that whole crowded line,
Knew he belonged to me.
The tattered coat that he had on,
And his own little boots I could see,
Had a hole in the toe of one of them
How cold his feet must be.
His Mom stood there looking rather sad,
Yet proud of her little son,
For no one but him and Santa Knew what had to be done.
That night, after hearing the last little girl ask for a dolly that talked.
I told her that I would do all that I could,
And then I went for a walk.
I turned in the Santa suit, beard, hat and boots,
But the tears I had to keep,
As well as my promise to a little boy, who by now was fast asleep,
I went by a second hand boot shop and tried on a pair just for size,
The Lord must have been with me that night, for they fit to my surprise.
I found a pair for Billy, and bought them and went on my way.
For I had a special delivery to make,
Cause tomorrow was Christmas day.
I knocked at the door of the home I had left,
Almost a year before.
And standing there looking sleepy-eyed,
Was my little son of 4."
"Why Daddy, Santa's answered, and you're wearin your new boots.
Mommy said that you'd be back, Daddy did you find your roots?"
"I hugged them both so tenderly, as tears flowed full and free.
And then I thanked the Lord above, for the faith that they'd kept in me.
Cold and tired but happy, in my boots with my face aglow,
For I had found my roots at last, where I'd left them one year ago.

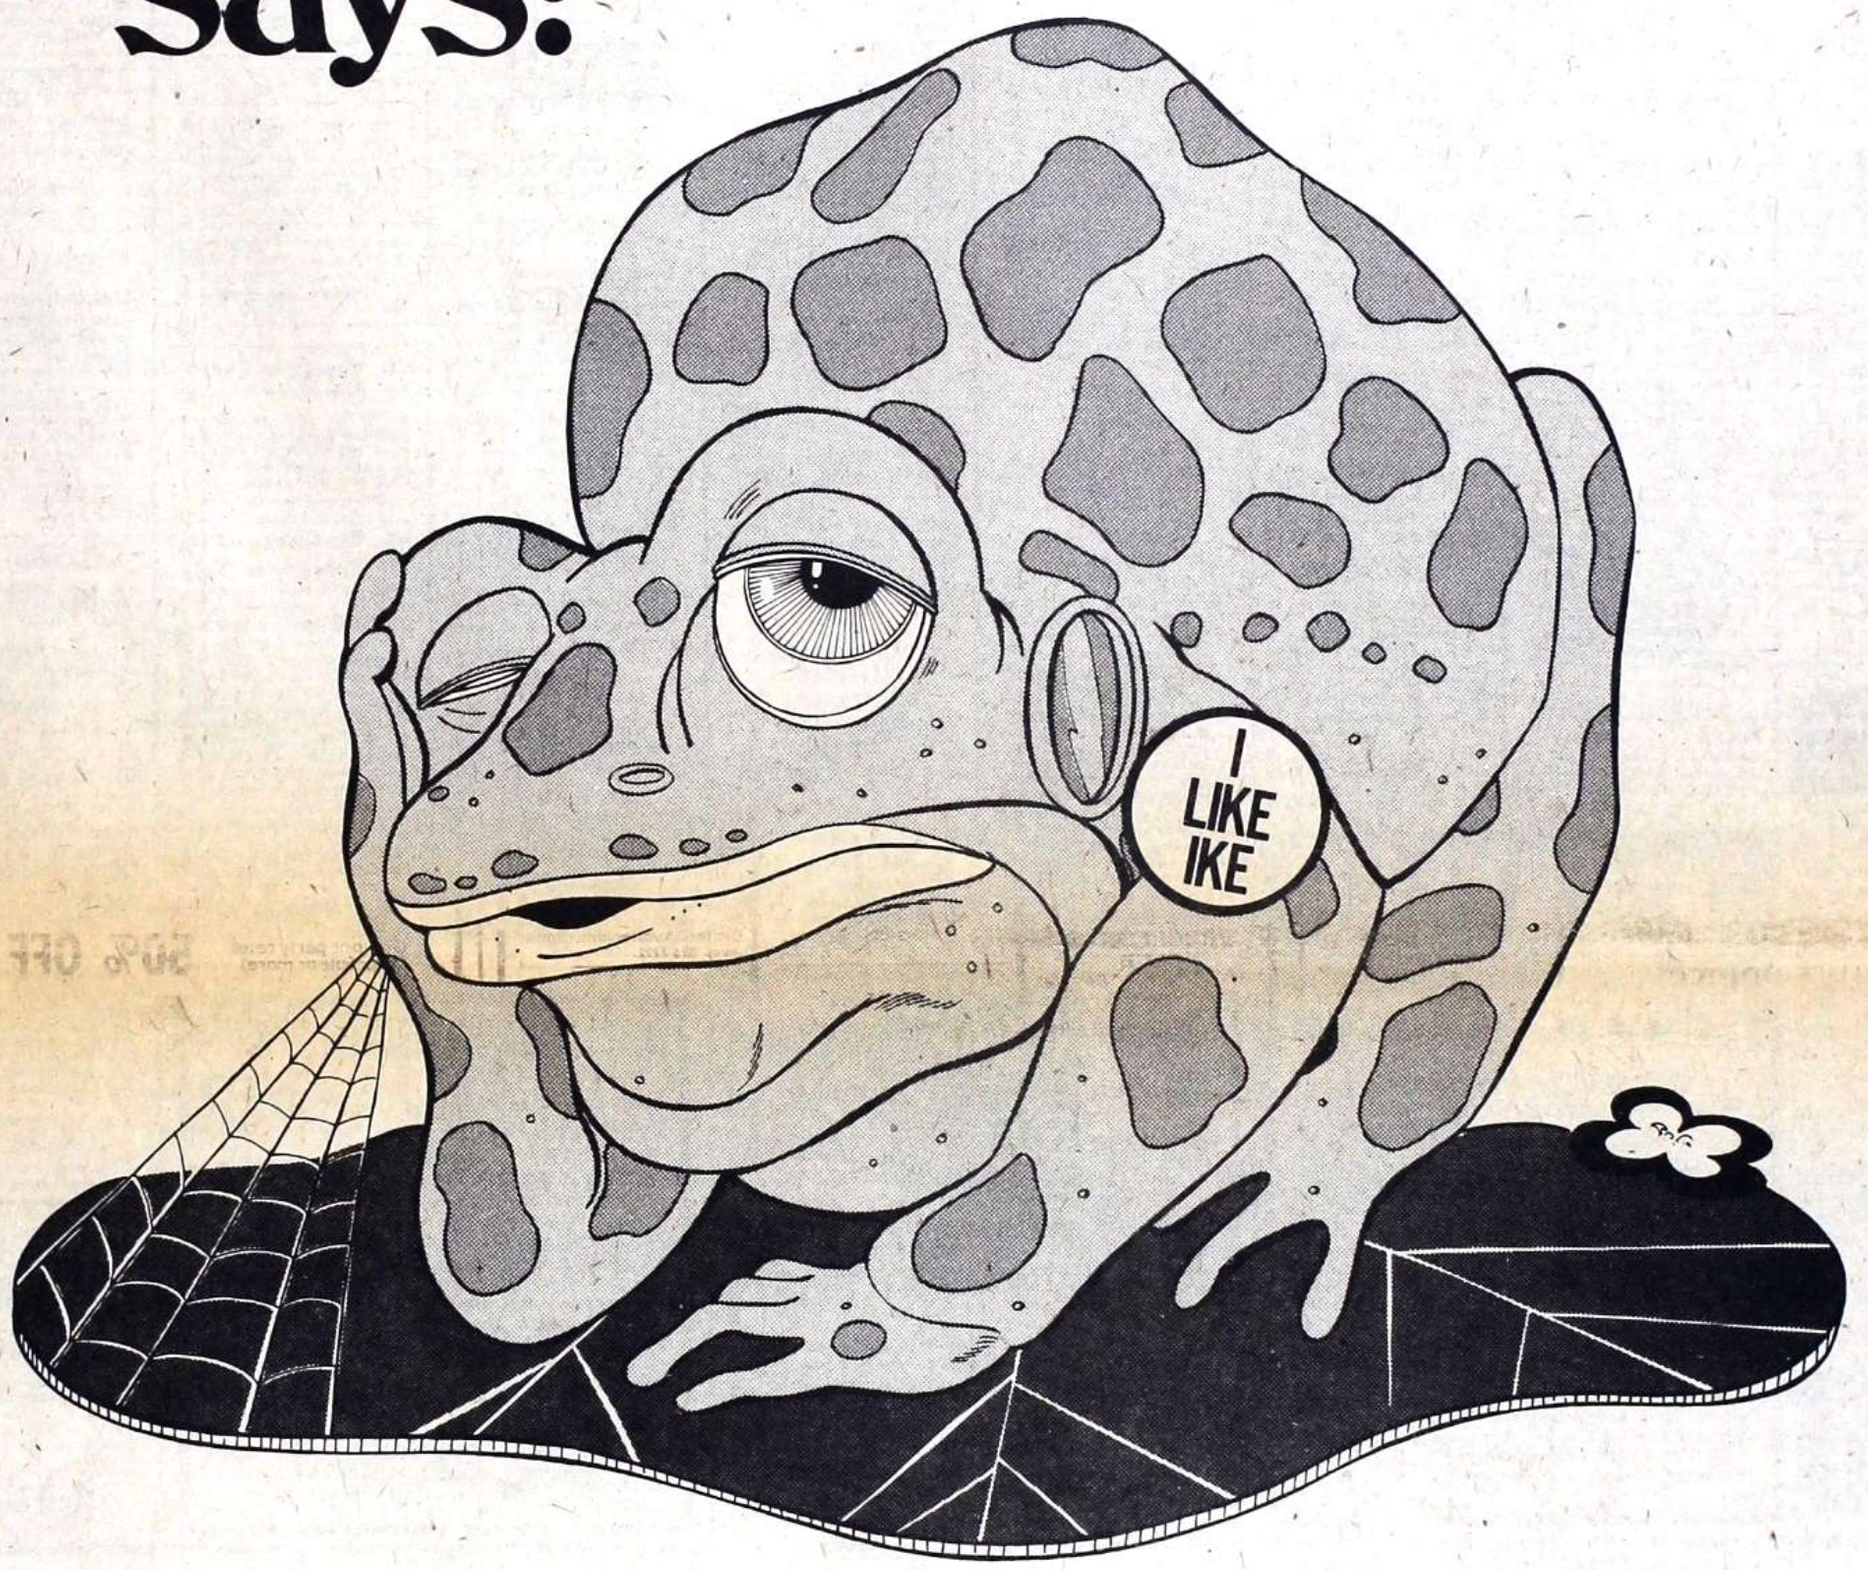
Rip Van Ribbit says:



"Don't be caught napping– use the Want Ads."

"I shouldn't have taken that second sleeping pill," croaked Rip Van Ribbit as he opened one bleary eye. "I'd better hop over to Lily's pad for a cup of coffee and catch up on what's new."

Halfway across the pond he ran into his old friend, Phil O'Dendron. "Hi Ya, Phil," he rasped. "How's Rhoda? You look terrible. Been sick or somethin'?"

"Rip!" exclaimed Phil. "Where in the bulrushes have you been hiding? And what's with the 'I Like Ike' button?"

"Just overslept," said Rip. "You oughta do something about those wrinkles."

"You sound kinda hoarse, Rip."

"Probably got a person in my throat. Have you seen Lily White?"

"Boy, you HAVE been out of it. Lily moved to the Everglades. Had a big house-cleaning and sold a lot of stuff in the Want Ads. Real estate fella got her a great price on her house and she also found a good reliable car for the trip. You know, in spite of all the changes, those Want Ads still do the same old great job."

"What changes?" croaked Rip.

Tree trimming time, tonight

The first Christmas tree trimming ceremony in Belleville will take place at 7 p.m. tonight, in front of city hall and old city hall.

Sponsored by the Belleville-Area Chamber of Commerce, it's hoped the event will "catch on" and become a regular yuletide occasion.

Old City Hall — 405 Main St. — and the present city hall — Main St. at Five Points — both have evergreens adroning their lawns. Individuals, families and groups are encouraged to join the festivities and bring ornaments, to decorate the trees tonight.

Pete Doyle, Christmas parade chairman, came up with the tree trimming idea and hopes for a large turnout. He said that residents can make or buy the decorations they want to hang on the tree.

His throne awaits him.

Dusting off Santa's chair, getting out his bright-colored togs and shining up the key to the city, is Belleville-Area Chamber of Commerce secretary, Leona Van Buhler. These items and many others, will be in full use Saturday when St. Nick comes to town on his sleigh, the highlight of the annual Belleville Christmas Parade which begins at 11 a.m. and wends its way merrily down Main St. More than 29 floats, marching bands and other units will march in the parade.

Just chatting with St. Nick

City hall was packed Friday night as some 600 Romulus children and their parents turned out to welcome Santa Claus and the youngsters had their requests ready. Marie DeBuysscher, director of Parks and Recreation, called it the city's most successful "welcome Santa" party and Christmas tree lighting ceremony ever. Santa never changes and neither does the wild-eyed excitement seen in the eyes of eager children sitting on his lap. Here Karen Schivel, age three, and two-year-old Marcus Folmar exhibit their spontaneous exuberance in chatting with St. Nick.

City Hall Aglow

Romulus City Hall was glowing with multi-colored lights Friday night after Santa Claus arrived and 5-year-old Mary Neighbors threw the switch lighting the city Christmas tree, and the lights on surrounding Civic Center buildings. Nearly 1,000 people welcomed the jolly gent from the north, and more than 600 bags of candy were handed out to excited youngsters in Romulus's seventh annual Christmas lighting ceremony since becoming a city in 1970.

'Thanks Mayor'

Mary Neighbors, the five-year-old cutie who threw the switch to ignite all the Christmas lights on the city's tree and civic center buildings, was the center of attraction in Romulus Friday night. Santa Claus holds Mary in his lap while Romulus Mayor James Stewart presents the Halecreek Elementary School student with a $25 savings bond for her help in "brightening" the city.

TENDER LOVING CARE FOR YOUR HAM

To calculate how large a ham you'll need, allow about 1/4 to 1/3 pound boneless ham per person, 1/3 to 1/2 pound bone-in ham per person.

Slice ham thinly. Two or three thin slices are more flavorful than one thick one.

Whole and half cured hams may be refrigerated up to 7 days; ham slices, 3 to 4 days; cooked leftover ham, up to 7 days; fresh ham, 2 to 4 days.

Freezing for long periods is not recommended for cured and smoked hams because it changes the flavor and texture. But ham can be frozen up to 2 months. Wrap carefully in airtight moisture-proof wrap and store at 0°F or lower. Fresh ham may be frozen up to 6 months. Do not freeze canned hams.

Don't leave ham at room temperature for long periods. Keep it either cold (at least 40°) or hot (140°). Remember, ham is perishable. If you have any doubts about leftover ham, throw it out.
